READING SKILL

Identifying the main idea and key details helps a reader understand a text better.

The main idea is the most important thought in a topic. Key details like descriptions, explanations, or examples are important information that support the main idea.

Read the passage and circle the main idea, then underline the key details that support the main idea.

Jack's family enjoyed doing a lot of things in Bangkok. Bangkok is a city in Thailand. They visited the Grand Palace to see where the King of Thailand lives. Then they bought some fresh fruit at the floating market. They also went to the beautiful beach of Ko Phi Phi to swim. Their trip to Thailand was an experience Jack will never forget.

SAM'S TRIP TO ANCHORAGE

Sam just came back from a vacation in Anchorage. Anchorage is the largest city in the state of Alaska in the United States, famous for its extremely cold winters. Sam and his family visited the city in the summer to take advantage of the long days and the moderate temperature there during that time of the year.

Sam and his family did a variety of activities while they were there. They went to the Anchorage Zoo and saw different animals such as moose, snow leopards, and polar bears. They also went skiing at the Hilltop Ski Area and Arctic Valley Ski Area.

What is the main idea of this paragraph?

What are the key details that support this main idea?

Sam and his family also went on a cruise to see the huge glaciers of Prince William Sound. After admiring the glaciers, they watched in awe as whales, seals and sea lions, were all around them.

The next day, Sam and his family also made sure not to miss the Iditarod Trail Sled Dog Race, an event which happens on the first Saturday of March each year. Participants in the race should have a team of 16 dogs that will pull their sleds in the almost 1000-mile trail for days. A week before the race, Sam and his family had so much fun touring the dog's kennels and trying to ride the sleds themselves!

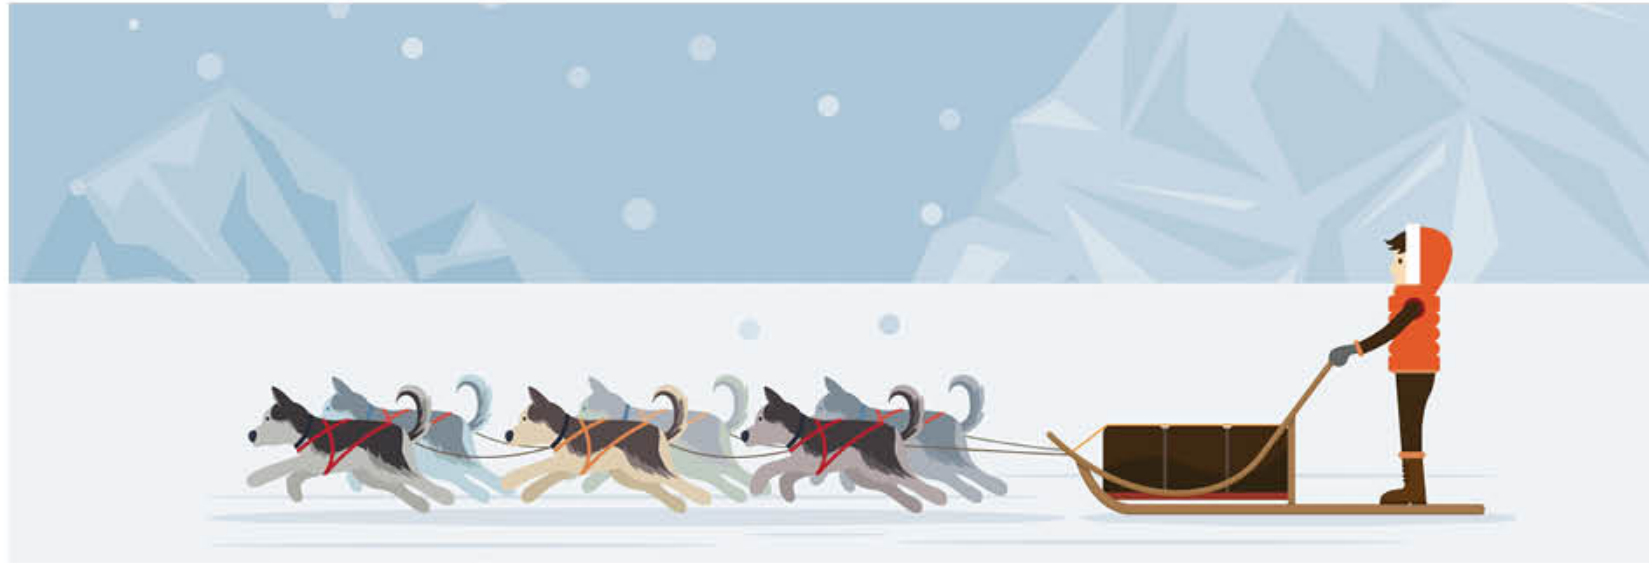

Everyone in the family really enjoyed their vacation, from going to the zoo, having a day cruise at the Prince William Sound, to watching the race, and all the other fun activities they did. All these activities made their vacation an unforgettable experience!
