Example:

My Antique Music Box

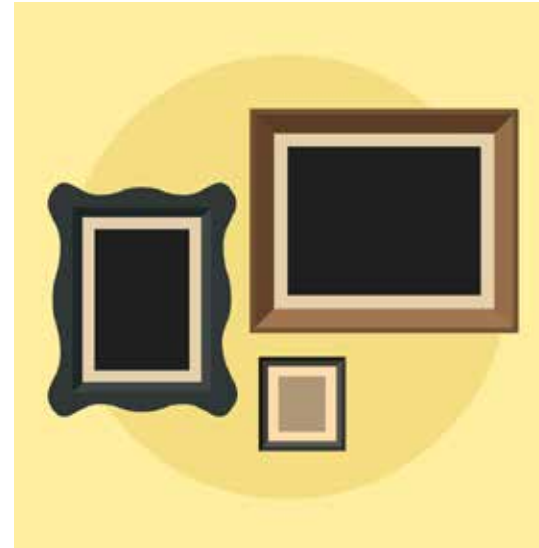

I'm not really a fan of old items. But this changed one afternoon when my mom and I passed by a shop that sells antiques in town. As we were passing by the shop, I saw this beautiful music box in the display window. I fell in love with it instantly! My mom and I entered the shop to have a closer look at it, and we saw a tiny ballerina dancing inside it. It was really pretty! The shop owner told us it was only five dollars, so my mom bought it right away. Since then, I started collecting antique items. Would you like to see my collection?

Do you know what thrift shops are?
Have you ever been to one?

Thrift shops are where people can buy used or second-hand items. That's the reason they're also called second-hand stores. The prices are really low because the items sold there are second-hand.

Thrift shops are usually managed by organizations that help the poor. These organizations give the money they raise from selling used things to people in need.

What are thrift shops?

THRIFT SHOP

Things sold in thrift shops may not be new, but you can still find a lot of really nice items there. If you're patient enough to look around, you could find great items like second-hand designer clothes, antiques, and jewelry. You can even find useful furniture or appliances that still work well.

What can you find in a thrift shop?

THRIFT SHOP

Shopping in thrift shops can be rewarding.

I remember my first visit to a thrift shop. I bought a really nice sweatshirt. It was made of excellent materials, and the design was very fashionable. My friends couldn't believe that I got it from a thrift shop!

Do you want to buy things in a thrift shop? Why or why not?

THRIFT SHOP

There was also a time I bought a book with a leather cover. It looked old, but I bought it because it was still in good condition. I only found out later from a friend that it's a collector's item! This means that it's rare and of high value.

What did the writer find out about the book he bought?

THRIFT SHOP

Shopping in thrift shops is also rewarding because we help others when we buy things there. We also help save the environment because we reuse old things.

If you haven't been to a thrift shop yet, try going to one the next time you go shopping!

Based on the passage, how do we help the environment by shopping in thrift shops?
