Let's talk!

Introduction

Cindy and Jack are reading a book about animals. They are talking about animal coverings.

What are you reading, Cindy?

I am reading about animal coverings. They can help to protect animals.

Look at the coverings on these crabs. They are called crab shells.

Wow! The shells look strong and hard. I want a shell too. Maybe then I will be strong!

Grammar

Determiners (these/those):

Use "these" and "those" before plural nouns to indicate which things you mean.

these → close to the speaker

those → far away from the speaker

e.g. Those feathers are beautiful.

Cool idea! And birds have feathers. Feathers help to keep a bird warm when it flies.

Cool! I want to have feathers too. Maybe I could fly...

Fish have scales.
Scales help to protect their soft bodies in water.

That is interesting.
