Listen and play

Harry: Peter, look at this picture on my phone. I took it on our school trip!

Peter: It's lovely. Where did you go?

Harry: To a butterfly farm. It was brilliant there. Everything was so interesting.

Peter: Which day did you go to the butterfly farm?

Harry: On Monday. We took some pictures while we were there and had to make a poster about it later in the week.

Peter: I see. Was the butterfly farm far away? Did you have to go by train?

Harry: No. The driver took us there in the school bus. It didn't take very long to get there.

Peter: And were you there all day?

Harry: No. We left school at nine o'clock. Sorry, it was half past nine in the morning.

Peter: Quite early. What did you see there?

Listen and play

Harry: Hundreds of beautiful insects. I loved visiting the part where it had all the butterflies but it had a few unusual birds and other animals there, too. There was a black swan. That was the most unusual thing I saw there, I think.

Peter: And did you give it something to eat?

Harry: No! It has to eat special food. But there was a surprise for us when my friends and I got hungry!

Peter: What do you mean?

Harry: Our teachers gave us a picnic.

Listen and play

Peter: Great! Did you eat your picnic outside?

Harry: Yes, next to a waterfall. It was pretty but you can't swim there. Come and look at my homework. I described everything I saw. My teacher said it was very good!

Peter: In a minute! OK? I want to make a cup of tea first.

Harry: All right!
