Conversation setting.

Timmy is showing his new model of a spacecraft to Jimmy.

Conversation

03:00

Role play the conversation.

Look, Jimmy! What do you think of my new model? It's a spacecraft.

Let me take a look. Cool! The modules can even be separated! I didn't know you were interested in spaceflight.

I was deeply attracted to the Apollo Project in science class. Do you know that America was the first country that sent humans to the moon?

Which one was the first country that sent humans to the moon?

A. the US B. China C. the UK

Conversation

03:00

Role play the conversation.

Of course I do. Apollo 11 carried three astronauts, and on July 21st 1969, Neil Armstrong took the first step on the moon.

Wow, you really know your history.

Do you know that scientists also sent a spacecraft to Mars?

Really? Mars is very far. How long did it take for the spacecraft to get there?

How long ... ?

How ... ?

We use "how" to get information about numbers and quantities.

How many ... ?

e.g. How many books do you have?

How much ... ?

e.g. How much is your new watch?

Conversation

03:00

Role play the conversation.

About six months. By the way, the spacecraft was unmanned.

I hope I can land on Mars when I grow up.

Good for you, Timmy! But at present, you should study hard in school.

I know. I will do my best.

Was there anybody in the spacecraft that was sent to Mars?
