The King's Squire

There once was a princess who lived in a spire. She was pretty and very desired. “How can I marry this girl?” inquired the squire.

The king admired the squire. He hired him to fight the vampires. "If you are successful, then you can marry the princess," said the king.

The squire rode on his horse until it was tired. He stopped in the country and made a big fire. In the night, he met the vampires.

The squire defeated the vampires and rode home to his sire. He married the princess who lived in the spire. Everyone was happy!
