Introduction

Emma seems unhappy.
She has a problem with
her new friend.

Are you alright,
Emma? You didn't eat much at dinner.

Dad, you know my
new friend Dinah?
She makes me
confused.

Oh, she's the one that came
to our house last Saturday, right?

Yes. She says she's my friend... But sometimes I really
doubt it.

Today I overheard some kids making fun of me, and she was one of them.

Friends make us feel good. Does Dinah make you feel good?

Sometimes yes. Sometimes no. And sometimes I feel sorry for her. I think I'm the only friend she's got.

To make a friend, you have to be a friend. Maybe Dinah hasn't learned that yet.

What should I do, Dad?

Maybe you should talk to Dinah, and
tell her what you
think a friend is.

OK. Thanks,
Dad.
