Let's Talk!

Conversation

01:00

Conversation setting.

Timmy is drinking coke
in the kitchen with Cindy.

Role play the conversation.

I love drinking cold coke in hot weather like this. There you go! Finished!

(Timmy put the empty bottle into the recycling bin.)

Well, that's a very good habit! But do you know what else could be recycled?

Yes, last time my dad and I talked about tires being recycled.

Please circle the symbol that means "recycling" in the picture below.

Conversation

03:00

Role play the conversation.

That's a good one. Actually, there is a wide range of things that could be put into new use. For example, newspapers, metal cans or even your tooth brushes!

Tooth brushes? What can they be made into?

All kinds of things! Such as picnic tables, benches or garden tools, once the plastic handle is cleaned and processed.

Grammar

... even + n (e.g. even snakes)

We use "even" to say that something is unusual and surprising.

e.g. I like every animal, even snakes.

Role play the conversation.

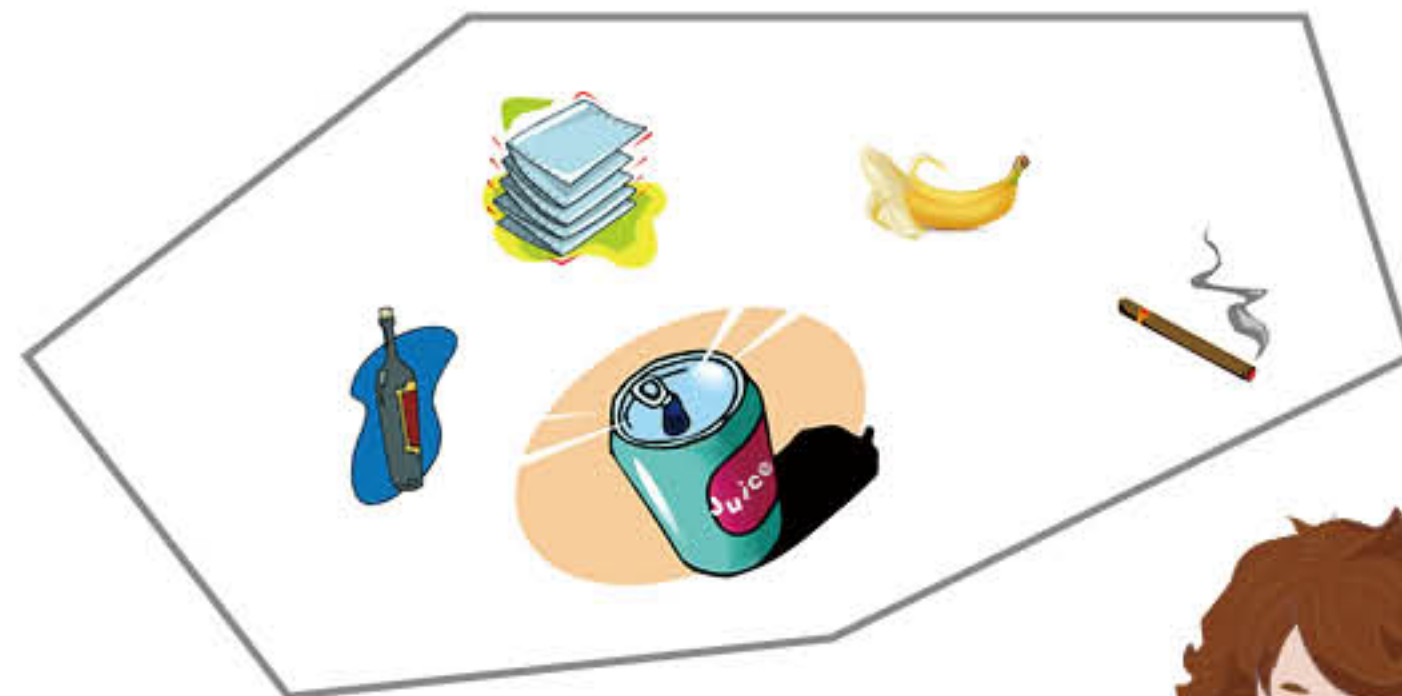

Alright! Miss Know-it-all! Honestly, I never thought about it before. So next time, before I throw away something, I'll think about if it can be recycled first.

Yes. It helps prevent things from being wasted! Moreover, I have to say, recycling is a very good way to protect our planet.

How can we benefit from recycling?
