Let's read!

Cindy is very excited. It's springtime again and it's time for the most important holiday in spring: Easter! On Easter Sunday, she gets to eat lots of chocolate eggs, and play games to win prizes.

Countable Nouns

Countable nouns are for things we can count using numbers. They have singular and plural forms.

e.g. one apple	five apples
one potato	many potatoes
one egg	lots of eggs

What's the most important holiday in spring?

HAPPY EASTER!

This year, Cindy's parents take her to the park to join in an Easter egg hunt with Timmy and Sam. First, they go to the park square and wait for the game to begin. "Hello, children! I am the Easter Bunny! Can you help me find all the hidden eggs in the park?"

Where can the children find the hidden eggs?

The Easter Bunny speaks again: "OK, kids. There are lots of colorful hidden eggs all over the park! Check behind the trees and in the bushes! When you find one, put it in your basket and keep going! Whoever finds the most eggs in one hour will win! Ready? Go!"

How can you win the game?

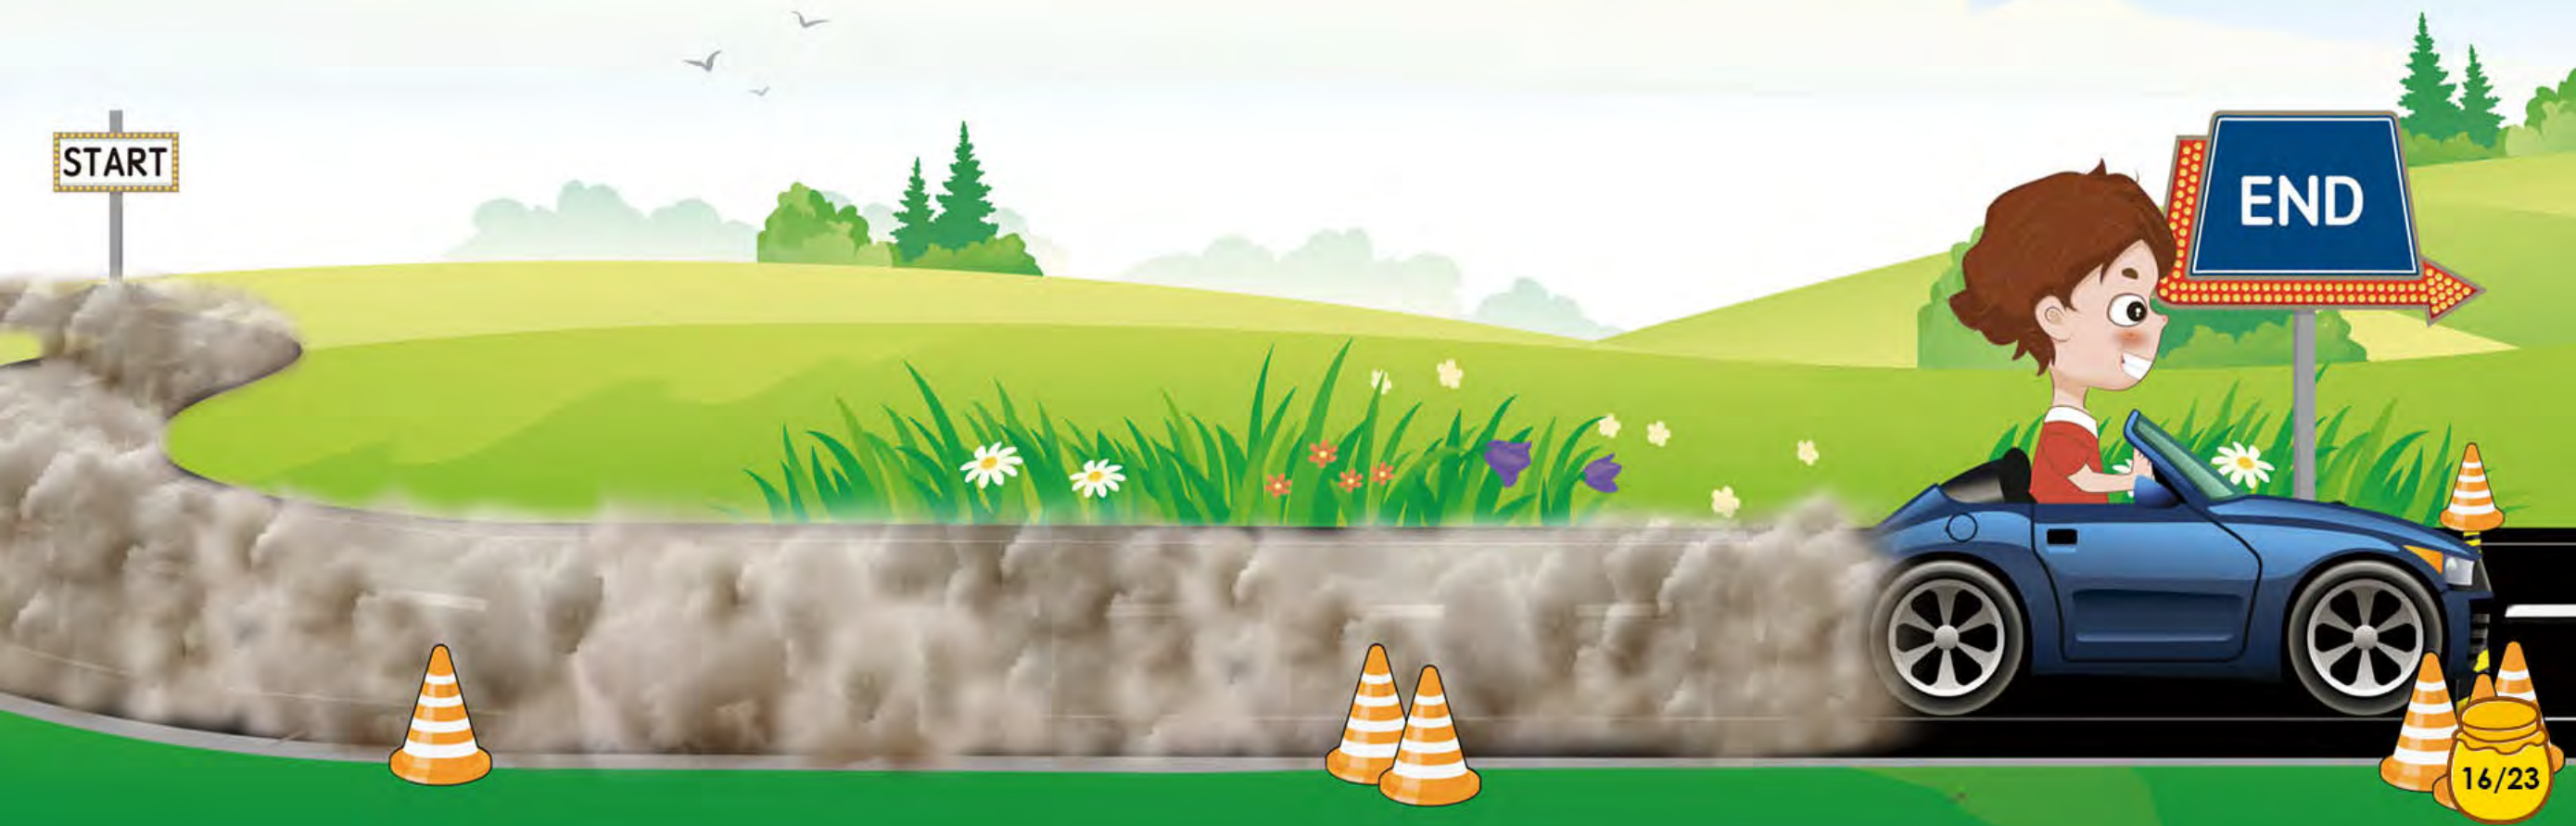

For a whole hour, Cindy, Timmy and Sam run all over the park, while their parents take photos. Finally, the children all return to the square to hear who the winner is. What a surprise! Cindy, Timmy and Sam are all winners, as they have exactly the same amount of eggs! They have great fun dividing up their prize: a massive chocolate bunny!

What's the prize for the winner?
