

Are You Ready?

Listen to me.

Eyes on me.

Broken Arm

You are going to learn:

Topic: Feelings and health —
Broken arm

Words: take a look, wound, X-ray,
apron

Grammar: Phrasal verb (put on)

Warm-up

What are the problems with him?

Let's prepare!

Vocabulary

Let me take a look at the map.

take a look

What does he do when he wants to know the time?

Vocabulary

There is a wound on his hand.

wound

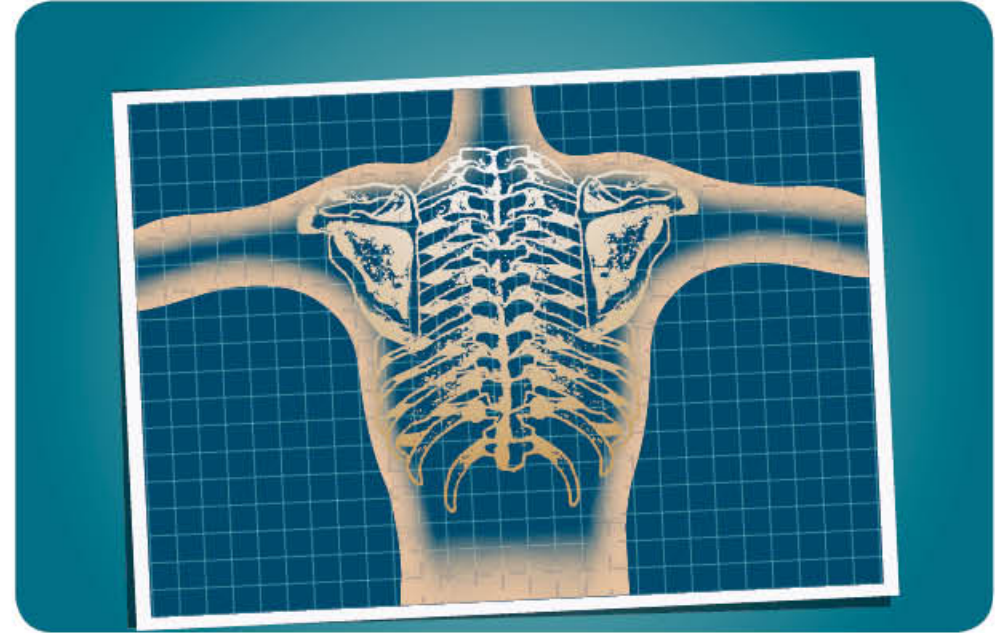

Who has a wound?

Vocabulary

You can take an X-ray to check your body.

X-ray

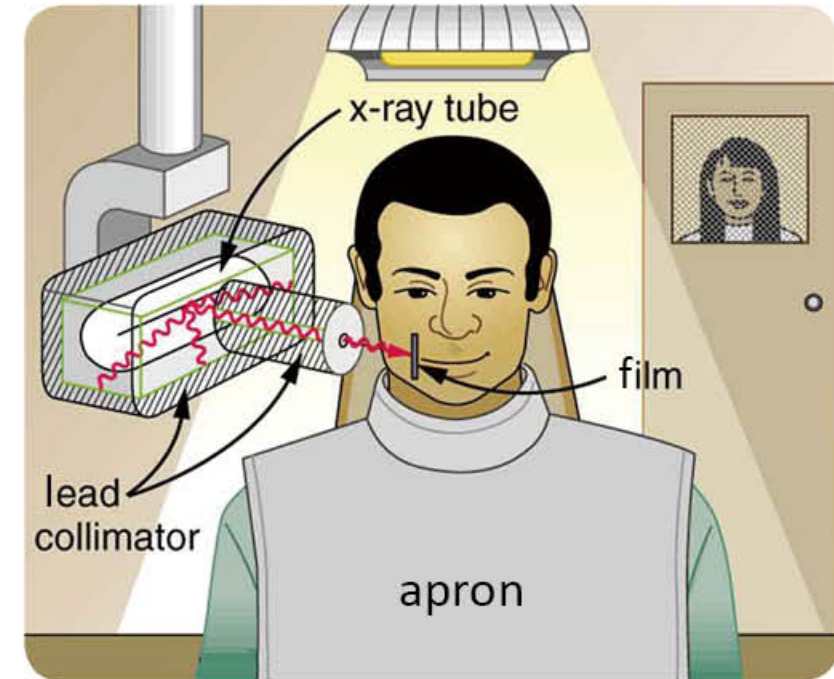

Which shows an X-ray photo?

Vocabulary

You should put on a safety apron when taking an X-ray.

a·pron

Who is wearing an apron?

Grammar

You should put on your coat when you go outside.

The boy can put on his pants by himself.

What should you do to keep your head warm in winter?

Let's talk!

Introduction

A boy fell off his bicycle and hurt his arm. He was taken to the hospital.

Hello, brave boy!
I am Dr. Smith.
What's your name?
Can I take a look
at your arm?

Hello, Dr. Smith. My
name is Steve. I hurt
my elbow. Please help. It really hurts!

OK, let me see your wound. Do you feel pain here?

Ouch! Yes, Dr. Smith. Did I break my arm? Do you need to put on a cast?

Grammar

Phrasal verb: put on

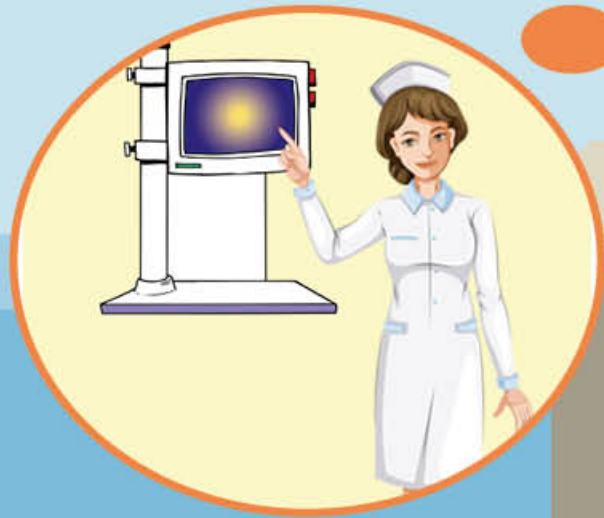

"Put on" means to cover part of your body with a piece of clothing or something else so that you are wearing it.

e.g. Put on your coat when you go outside.

Well, it's hard to tell now. So let's take an X-ray with Miss Olive first.

OK. This is my first time to take an X-ray. I hope it doesn't hurt!

You'll be fine, my boy. Put on this apron and then we'll take an X-ray.

OK. Thank you, Doctor!

Let's practice!

Activity

Match the pictures with the words and make sentences.

take a look

wound

X-ray

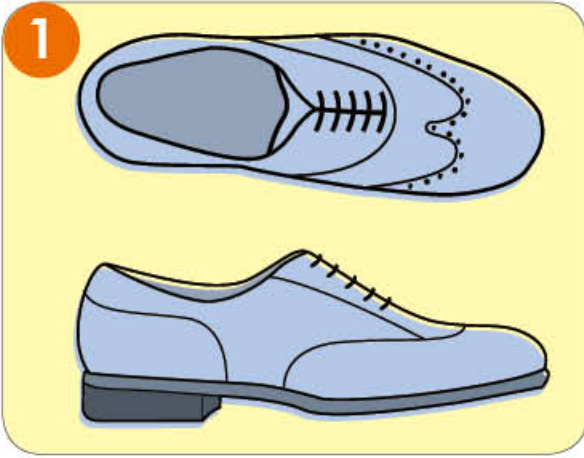

apron

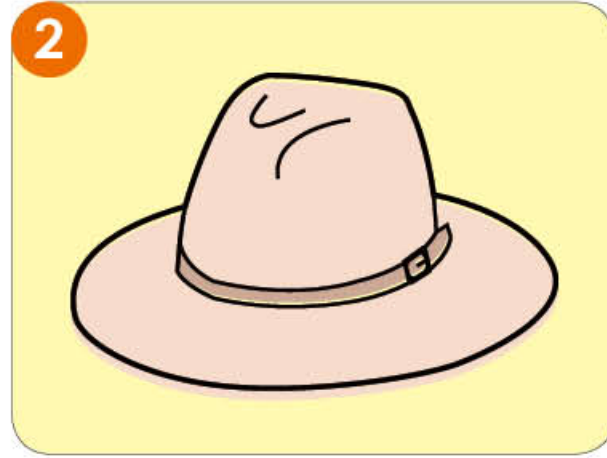

Activity

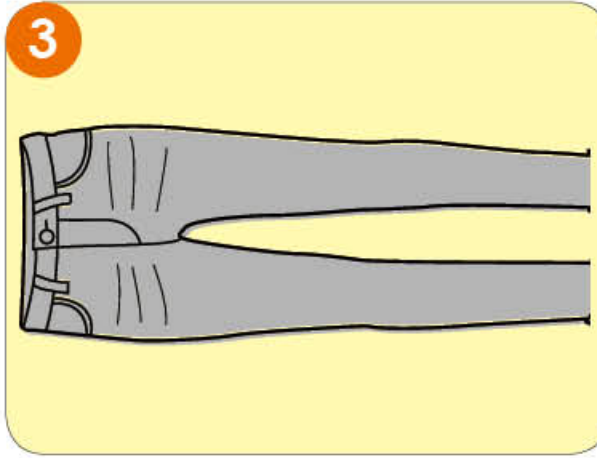

Make sentences using “put on”.

shoes

hat

pants

watch

Put on your shoes before you leave home.

Activity

Look at the pictures and role-play.

I am Dr. Smith. How can I help you?

Doctor, I hurt...

OK, let me see your... Do you feel...?

Ouch! ...

Hints: knee wound pain hurts

Continued on next page.

Activity

Continued...

So let's...

OK. This is my first time to take an X-ray.

... this apron and then we'll...

OK. Thank you, Doctor!

Hints: X-ray put on

Today I learned:

Topic

Feelings and health —
Broken arm

Words

take a look

wound

X-ray

apron

Grammar

Phrasal verb (put on)

e.g. Do you need to put on a cast?

SEE YOU SOON!

51

TALK

