Listen and write

Boy: What's the matter, Aunt Sally?

Woman: I'm a bit tired, that's all. There was something wrong with one of my computer programs this morning. And I couldn't send any emails! I had to take a letter to an office instead because it was important. It was on the top floor of a skyscraper. The view was amazing.

Boy: Well, the view sounds good.

Listen and write

Woman: You know the prize I won on Saturday?

Boy: You mean that silly teddy bear! It's huge!

Woman: I know. I took it back to the funfair after my busy day at work.

Boy: Why?

Woman: Its fur wasn't very clean. They gave me another one. I'll give it to your cousin I think.

Listen and write

Woman: Oh! I saw Helen at lunchtime, as well.

Boy: I like her. She's really cool!

Woman: She is, isn't she? I needed to give her back her scarf.

Boy: The one she left in the car park last Sunday?

Woman: That's right. I took it to the new cafe in High Street. We had some delicious apple pie and ice cream there!

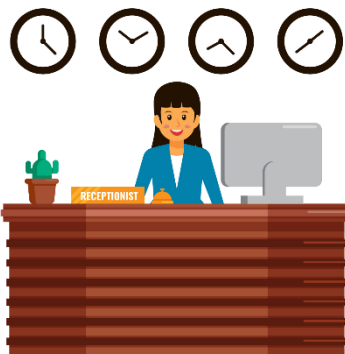

Boy: Wow!

Listen and write

Woman: I gave someone my umbrella today!

Boy: Why?

Woman: Well, I saw lots of people at the bookshop, the one next to the castle because Lily Brown was there!

Boy: The pop singer? Amazing! Why was she there?

Woman: She was just doing some shopping! I wanted to ask her some questions but she was too busy to talk to me. Then it started to rain so I gave it to her!

Listen and write

Woman: I wanted to go home after that but I couldn't.

Boy: Why not Aunt Sally?

Woman: Because I had to take a map to a hotel first. I met an inventor there yesterday. He was really nice. And he needed one. He doesn't like using his phone for that.

Boy: Oh!

Woman: I found one in the supermarket in the corner. He was really pleased when I gave it to him.

Listen and write

Boy: So did you do any writing for the newspaper today?

Woman: Yes. And I took some good photos earlier in the day. I used a new tablet to take those. I borrowed it from someone at work.

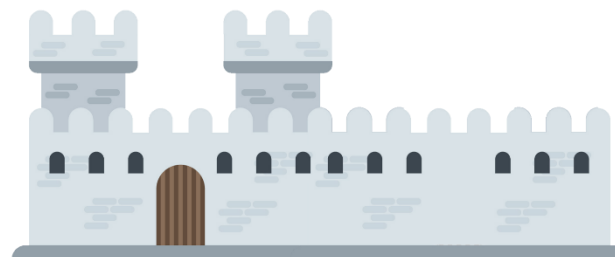

Boy: Great! Where did you go to take the pictures?

Woman: To the castle. A group of actors are making a film there. I asked them lots of questions because so many people are interested in the story. Yes ... it was a busy day.
