Let's talk!

Introduction

Pedro is curious about the yard sale that Timmy had yesterday.

Pedro

What were you doing yesterday?
It looked like you were moving house.

No, we were just having a yard sale, selling all the things we no longer use.

Timmy

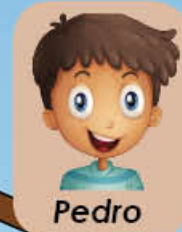

Grammar

Simple past tense

Regular verbs end in "ed".

"Ed" can make different sounds in different words.
It can sound like /t/, /d/ or /id/.

e.g. looked, belonged, wanted.

Pedro

What kind of things did you sell?

Clothes, books, old toys, tools... Anything we didn't want.

Timmy

Pedro

Cool. I think doing yard sale is a really good idea. I have seen some people just throw stuff away!

Yeah! That's really wasteful. Some things that you don't want can actually be really useful to someone else.

Timmy

Pedro

Plus, you can make some money, ha-ha! Oh, did I see your soccer boots on sale yesterday?

Yes, they were my favorite, but they don't fit me anymore.

Timmy

Pedro

Oh, what a shame I didn't buy them yesterday.

Oh, they weren't sold yesterday. They're still at home.

Timmy

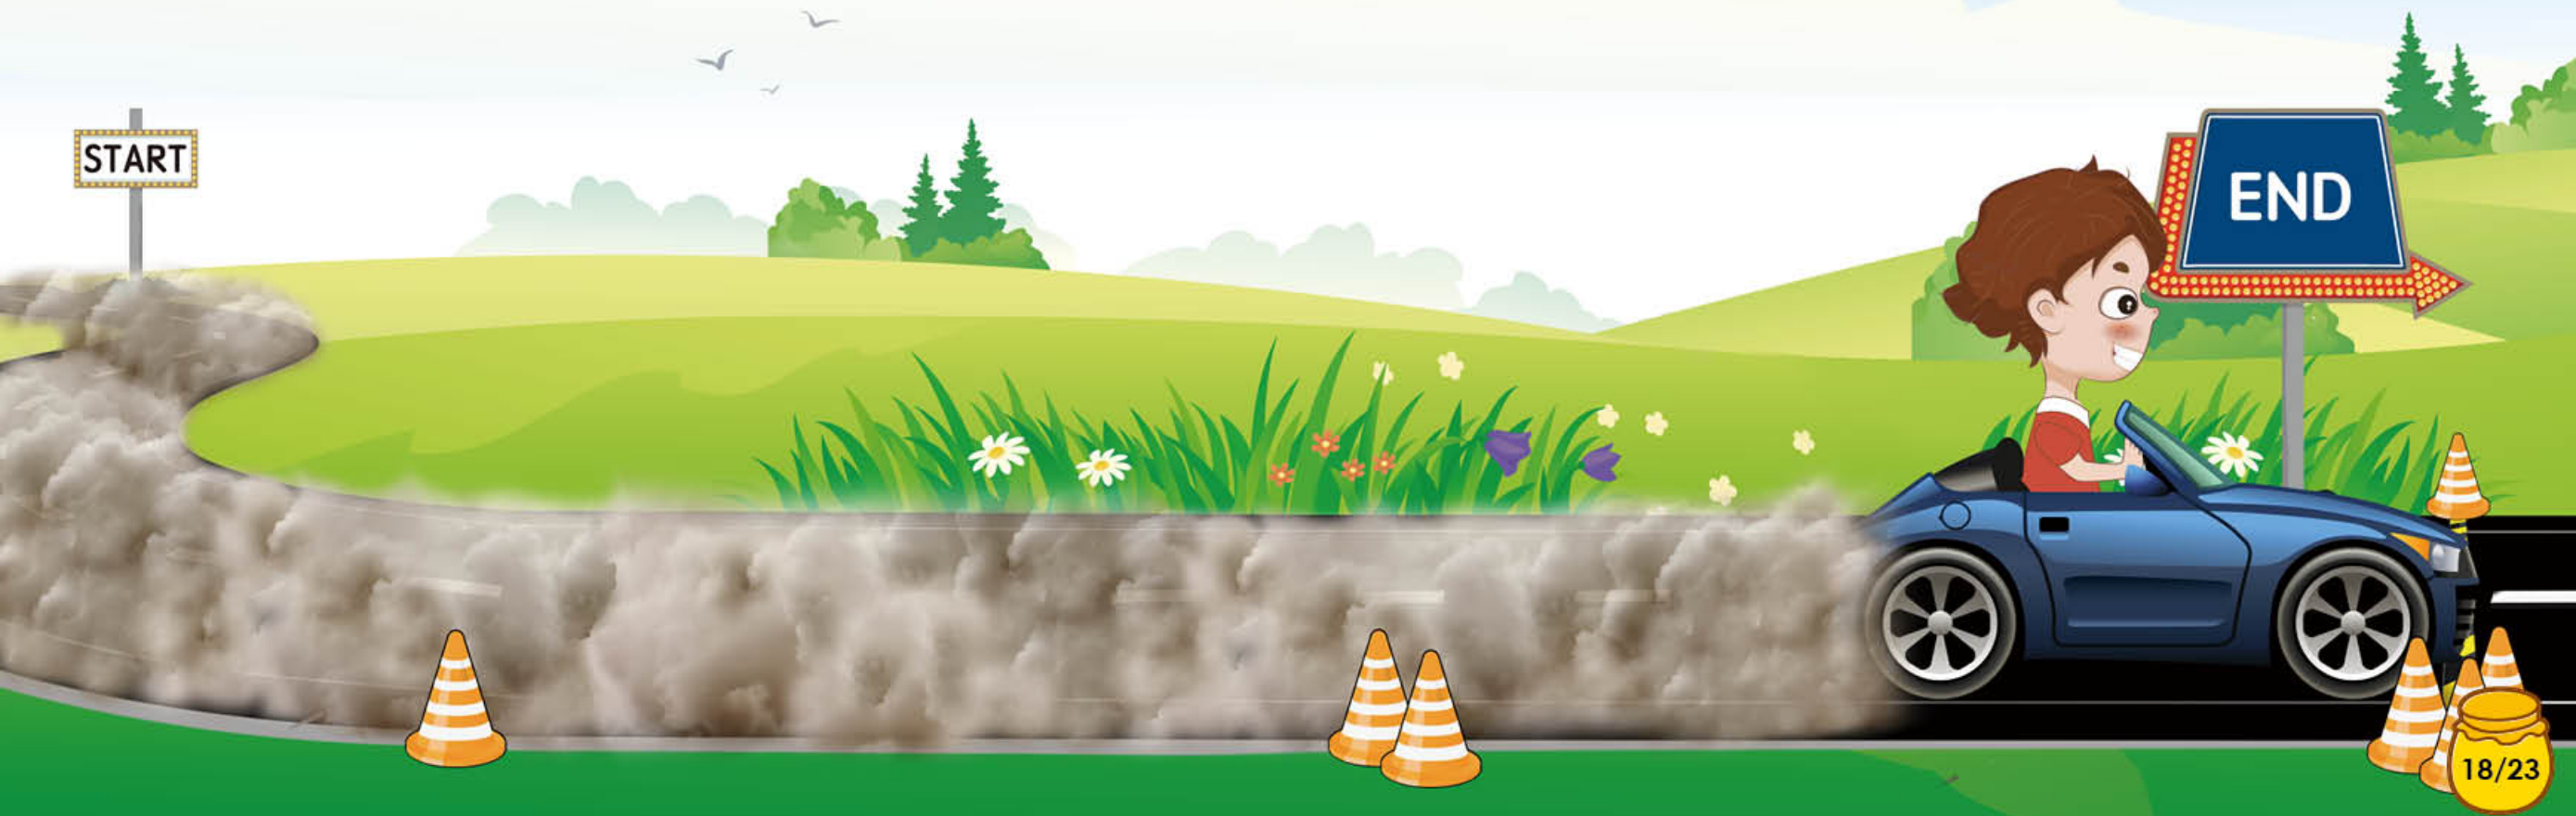

Pedro

Great news. So let's make a deal!
