Let's read !

The topic of today's English class is "My Favorite Month". Some students are ready to give a speech about their favorite months.

What's the topic of today's English class?

Timmy is the first speaker. "June is my favorite month. Because Children's Day is in June and I can go to the amusement park with my friends."

What is Timmy's favorite month?

Cindy's favorite month is different from Timmy's. Cindy says, "I like May best because Mother's Day is in May. I always prepare special gifts for my mom."

Grammar

A nominal possessive pronoun is a pronoun that replaces a noun phrase. "Mine", "yours", "his", "hers", "its", "ours" and "sb's" are all nominal possessive pronouns. e.g. This is his cat. The cat is his. Notice "his" in the second sentence replaces the noun phrase "his cat".

What's Cindy's favorite month?

It's Sam's turn to talk. "I like October because Halloween is in October. On that day I can put on my scary costume to scare people and play trick or treat."

Why does Sam like October?

Finally, the teacher says, "My favorite month is November because of Thanksgiving! Families and friends can get together and show thanks to everyone."

Why does the teacher like November?

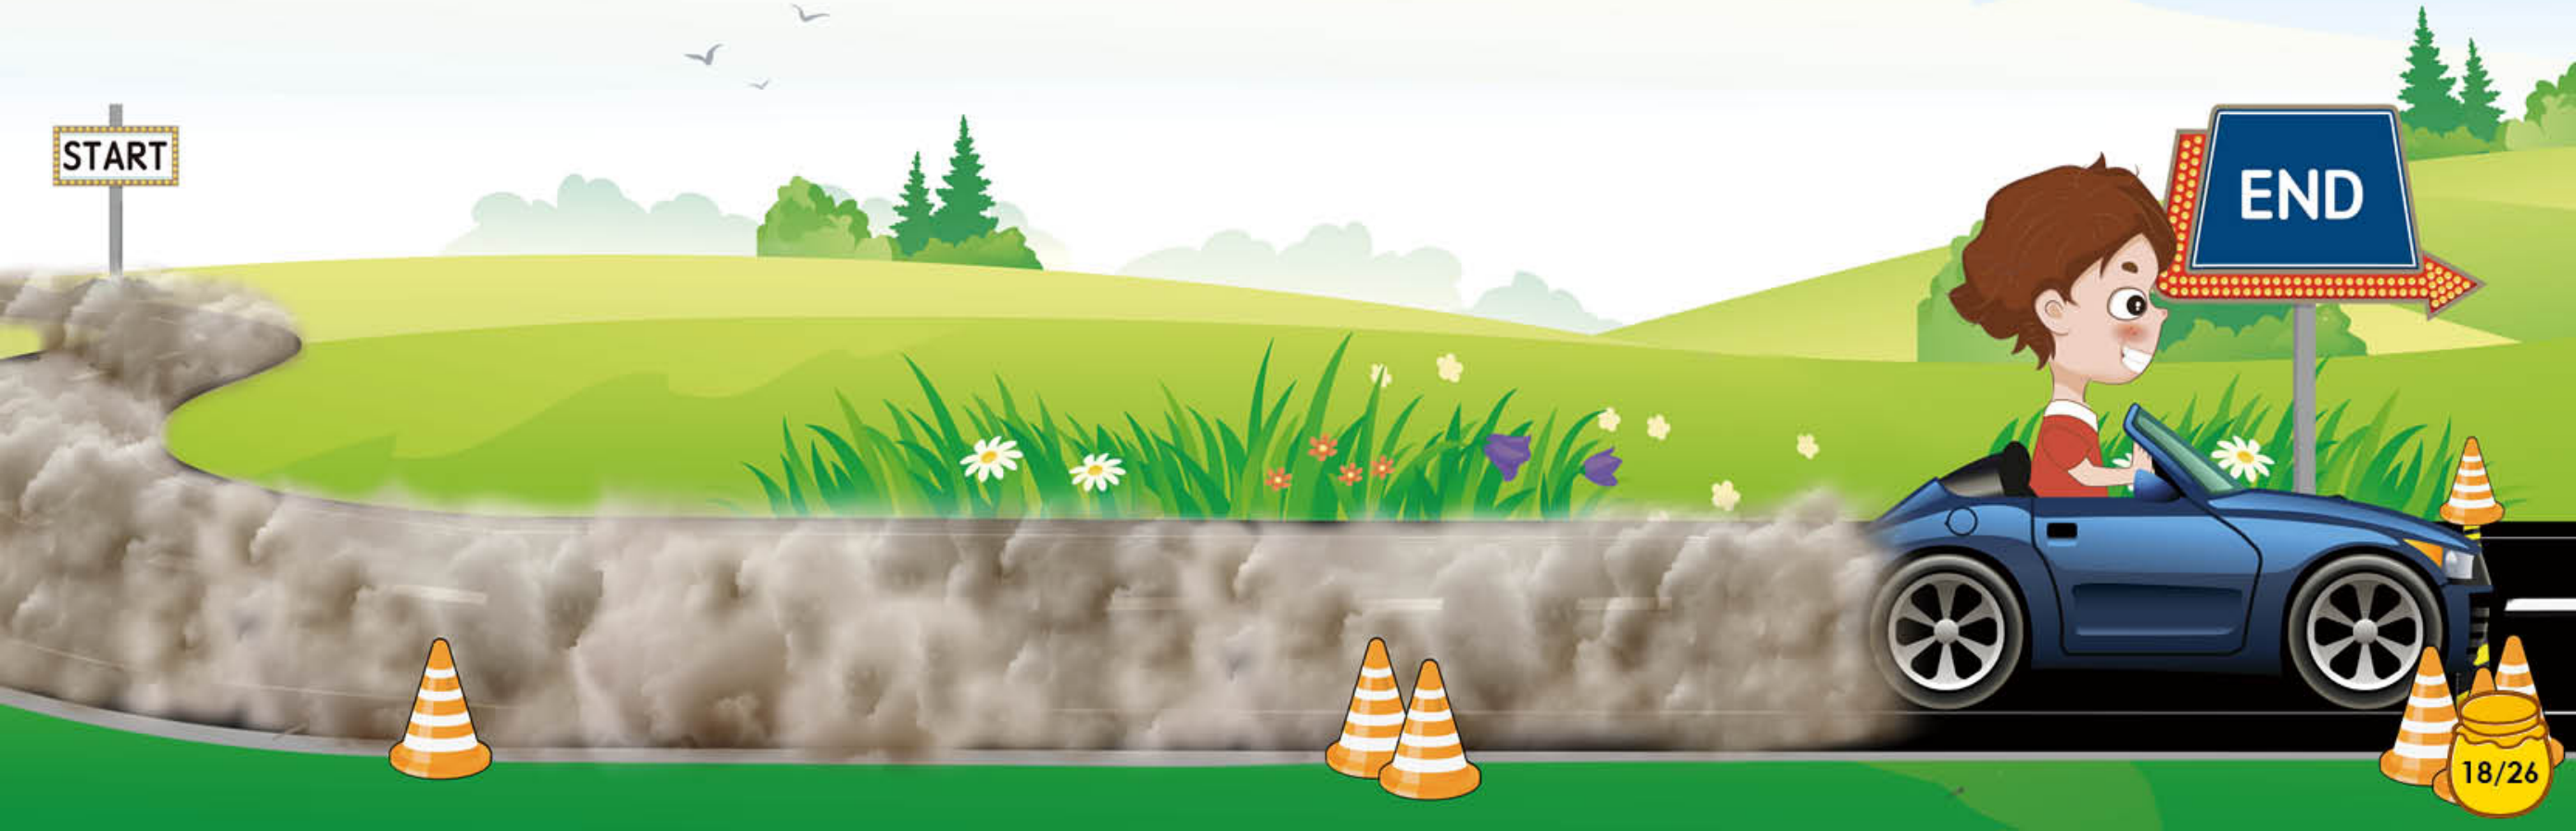

The three kids have shared their favorite months with the class. Can you tell me what your favorite month is?
