Let's Talk!

Conversation

01:00

Conversation setting.

Timmy and Dad are reading in the living room. Suddenly, the light goes out.

Conversation

03:00

Role play the conversation.

Dad! What happened?

It seems the power's off. Wait a minute. I'll go and get the flashlight.

(Dad comes back with a flashlight.)

Dad, I was thinking about why we can't see things in the dark when you were away.

Well, we need light. Only if light bounces off of the objects and into our eyes can we see things.

How can we see things?

Conversation

03:00

Role play the conversation.

So it's like how a camera works. We're not supposed to take photos in darkness.

Yes, smart boy! Light passes through the lenses of your eyes and is "recorded" on the back of your eyes, like the way it's recorded using an old camera's film.

Do we have a name for this "film" in our eyes?

Grammar

You're not supposed to do something
= It is not allowed or advisable

e.g.

- (1) You're not supposed to smoke here.
- (2) Jeff is much better after his illness, but he's still not supposed to do any heavy work.

How is light "recorded" on the back of our eyes?

Conversation

03:00

Role play the conversation.

Yes, it's called the retina. It turns light into signals that our brain can understand.

What a wonderful kind of camera! It seems the eyes are working all day long. They never stop taking pictures.

Exactly! It happens the moment you open your eyes. That's why we need to take a break whenever we read for too long.

What should we do when we read for too long?

- A. Read more.
- B. Take a break.
- C. Watch TV.
