School buses are usually yellow. The color yellow easily catches the eye. You can even see it from far away or in low light. This color helps school buses avoid crashes.

When a school bus stops to pick up students, its stop sign arm pops open. Vehicles behind the school bus will then stop to wait until the students are safely inside the bus.

1. What color are school buses?
2. Why is this usually the color of school buses?
3. What happens to the stop sign arm when the school bus stops to pick up students?
