Read the dialogues.

You read the sentences with Miss Bridge.

The teacher reads the sentences with students.

Miss Bridge: On Monday ,we don't have any classes because we're going on a study trip that day. Have you got a piece of paper? I want you to write some things.

Students: OK!

Miss Bridge: We can meet in the town square. We can see art by Alex Magus at the museum.

Students: Can you spell that name for us?

Miss Bridge: Yes. It's M-A-G-U-S.

Students: Thank you! It is a cool name.

Miss Bridge: After that, we get on the bus and go to the library.

Students: Which bus? The number 57?

Miss Bridge: No. That bus doesn't go to the library.

Listen and play

Students: The number 28 does. Should we catch that one?

Miss Bridge: Yes, we should. When we get there, you can find out about the history of the sport that we're playing this month.

Students: You mean tennis?

Miss Bridge: Yes. And at three o'clock, we can go to the park. Tell your parents to collect you back here at half past four, under the big tree outside the school.

Students: Right!

Miss Bridge: Now, one last thing. We can't have lunch at school that day.

Students: Can we buy some pancakes? There's a fantastic place!

Miss Bridge: No. But you can bring some sandwiches.
