Do you have a garden?
Have you ever planted anything?
Would you like to plant a tree?

Role-play

Role-play the dialogue. Who do you want to act?

Kim: Hello, Nancy. I didn't like standing on the stage but I won the singing competition last week!

Nancy: Wow! Excellent! You're always entering competitions, aren't you? You're good at art. Did you win the painting competition?

Kim: No, I didn't!

Nancy: Well, perhaps you'll win next time!

Kim: Thanks. Actually, I'm preparing for another competition now!
It's for planting the tallest tree!

Nancy: Nice!

Role-play

Nancy: Your dad knows a lot about growing plants. Is he helping you?

Kim: He's too busy on the farm, but grandma's giving me lots of advice.

Nancy: That's great!

Kim: Yes. She often helps Mum with her vegetable garden, too.

Nancy: How long have you got before the competition end date?

Kim: It's ends on the 30th ...so I have to get ready ...

Nancy: The 30th of July? That's in three weeks!

Role-play

Kim: No, I meant August! Just before our summer holiday from school ends.

Nancy: Oh. Ok! You've got lots of time. How did you know this competition?

Kim: My teacher told me.

Nancy: Is there any information about it on the village website or newspaper?

Role-play

Kim: There might be. I don't know. It won't be easy to win because lots of people know about it now. The winner gets a great prize!

Nancy: Let me guess. A great meal for all the family?

Kim: No, a ticket for all the family to go on a journey.

Nancy: Wow! That's more fun than a great meal!

Kim: Yes, and it's better than a gold cup.

Nancy: I'm going to watch my favorite program. Bye for now.

Kim: Bye!

Grammar

Do you know the differences between 'in' and 'on'?
