A wonderful trip

Last October, Robert and his family went to the airport by taxi. They had tickets to fly to another city to visit Robert's aunt at her new apartment. While they waited for their plane, Robert's parents had a cup of coffee, and his sister, Lucy, went to buy a magazine about pop stars to read on the journey. Robert just wanted to sit and watch all the planes fly up and disappear into the clouds.

Soon, their plane was ready and after everyone found their seats, the man who looked after the passengers came to speak to Robert and Lucy. 'My name's Mark,' he said. 'Here are some fun puzzles and quizzes for you to do.' Robert was much more interested in the video about travelling by air!

After a few minutes, Mark came back and said, 'Your father told me you want to be a pilot one day. Would you like to meet our two pilots before we leave?'

'Cool! Yes, please!' Robert answered, and followed Mark to the front of the plane.

The pilots let Robert see the different screens and maps and answered all his questions. Then Robert had to go back to his seat. He loved his adventure so much and now, he can't wait to learn everything he can about being a pilot.
