

Are You Ready?

Listen to me.

Eyes on me.

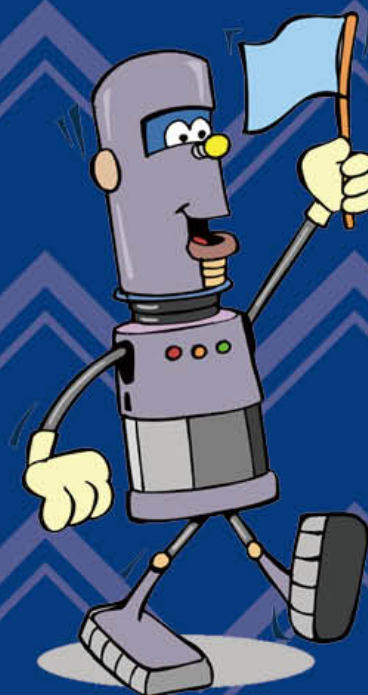

FAST READING

Classic English Junior Level 6 - Unit 16 Inventions

Lesson

2

The Unfinished Robot

Lesson Structure

1	Learning Objective
2	Warm-up
3	Reading Preparation—Vocabulary
4	Genre
5	Fast Reading
6	Wrap-up

You are going to read an article called “The Unfinished Robot.”

In the article you will learn:

Genre

Fiction

Key Words

laboratory, surprise, sharp, blade, button, experiment, click, attach

Warm-up

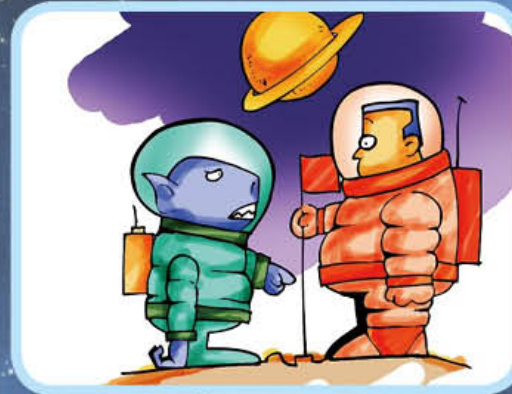

02:00

Which of the following do you think will become real one day?
And why do you think so?

Robots have human feelings.

Human beings move
to another planet.

Aliens come and live with us on the earth.

Time travel.

Let's Go!

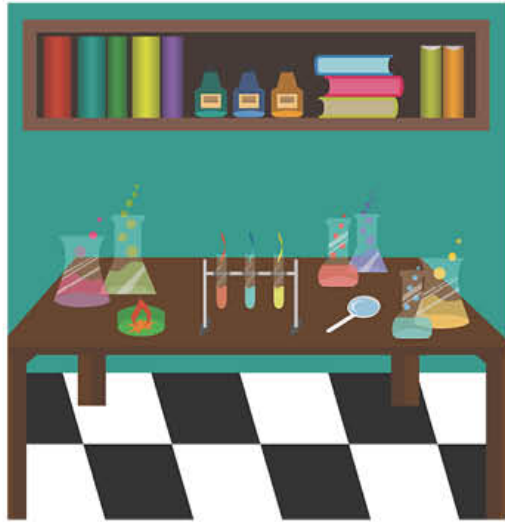

Reading Preparation—Vocabulary

02:00

Learn and say.

la•bor•a•tory n

This newly built laboratory is for students' chemistry class.

sur•prise v

The odd news surprised her and she is still in shock.

Explain a key word with your own words:

Reading Preparation—Vocabulary

02:00

Learn and say.

sharp adj

Careful with it! It's sharp and can cut things easily.

blade n

The antique knife is beautifully designed and has three blades.

Use a key word to make a sentence:

Reading Preparation—Vocabulary

02:00

Learn and say.

but•ton n

Alex has quite a collection of colorful buttons.

ex•per•i•ment n

Doing experiments can be fun and dangerous at the same time.

Use a key word to ask a question:

Reading Preparation—Vocabulary

02:00

Learn and say.

click ✓

The door clicked shut behind me.

at•tach ✓

Alex has attached a label to each piece of her luggage.

Use a key word to make a sentence:

Let's Read!

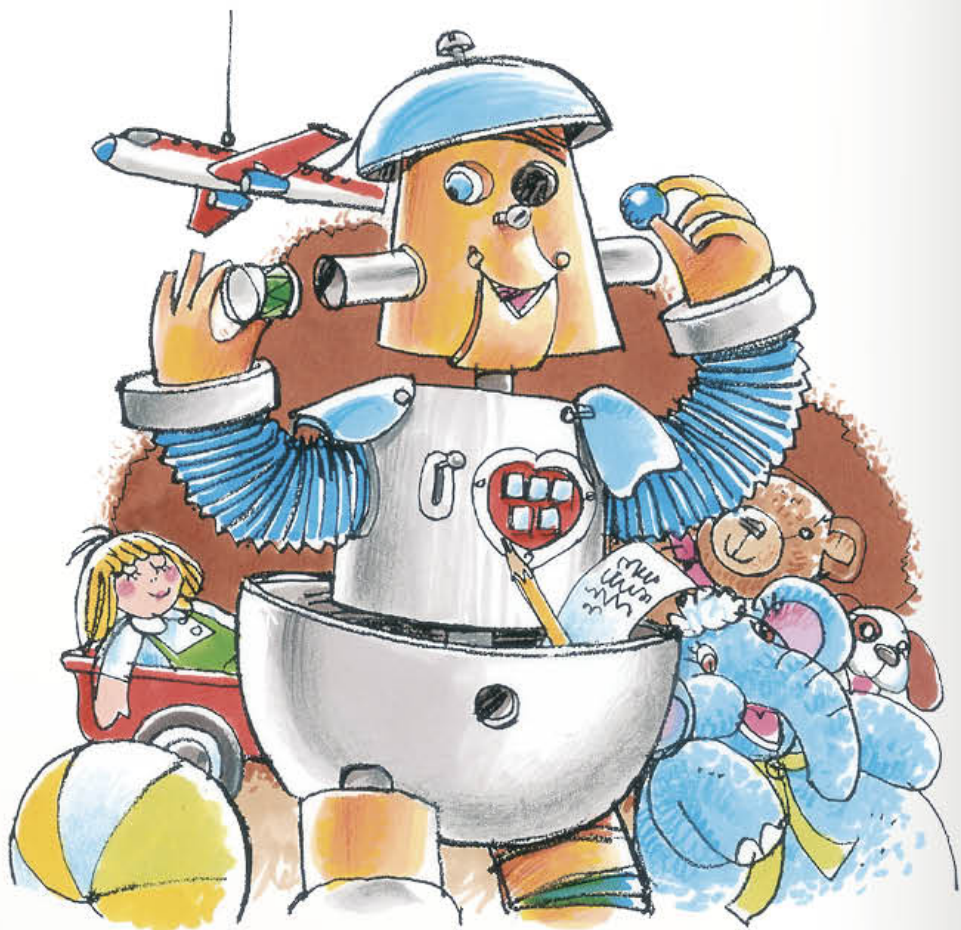

Fiction is a type of literature describing imaginary events and people, such as novels or stories. Unlike informational texts, the main purpose of fiction is to entertain instead of informing.

Which one is fiction? Choose the right answer based on the titles.

- A. How Can We Eat More Healthy?
- B. The Story of Little Robot Klinker.
- C. Three Ways to Make a Pie.

The Unfinished Robot

“How are you feeling, Klinker?” Dr. Blooper asked his new robot.

“Well, I can see out of one eye,” said Klinker. “I can hear out of one ear. But my left shoulder keeps falling down, my belly has a hole in it, and my fingers are missing something at the ends. Otherwise, I feel fine.”

How did Klinker feel?
Did he feel alright?

Dr. Blooper laughed. "I have made a list of your missing parts," he said. "When I have finished my experiment in the other room, I will go out and buy them. Then you will be finished."

Dr. Blooper went into the next laboratory. Klinker could hear him humming as he worked. Suddenly he had an idea.

"You are almost finished."

What did Dr. Blooper intend to do later on?

"I will surprise Dr. Blooper and buy these things myself," Klinker said.

Klinker's first stop was the toy store. He chose a small blue ball and a toy drum and gave them to the clerk. "Please charge these to Dr. Blooper," he said.

"I will surprise Dr. Blooper."

Where did Klinker go first?
What did he do there?

Next Klinker went to the hardware store. First he chose a knife with a sharp blade. Then he chose ten long steel nails.

The fabric store, full of lovely ribbons, laces, and buttons, was Klinker's next stop. He picked out a small red button and held it up to the hole in his belly.

What did Klinker do in the fabric store? Did Klinker buy any ribbons?

Fast Reading

03:00

When Klinker got back, Dr. Blooper was still working on his experiment.

"I will put all my parts together by myself," he said. "What a surprise Dr. Blooper will have!"

So Klinker clicked the ball into his eye socket.

He eased the drum into his ear.

He slid the blade into his shoulder.

He attached the nails to his fingers.

He popped the red button into his belly.

How did Klinker put the parts into himself? Match the words or phrases below.

click

the ball

eye socket ease

the drum

ear

slid the nails shoulder

attach

the blade

belly

pop

the red button

fingers

He was about to look in the mirror when Dr. Blooper walked into the room. He stared at Klinker.

"I have bought everything and finished myself. I have an eyeball, an eardrum, a shoulder blade, fingernails, and a belly button. But I still don't feel quite right," said Klinker.

Dr. Blooper smiled and patted Klinker on the head. "I will fix you right away," he said.

In the end, how did Dr. Blooper react when he saw Klinker?

"You are almost finished."

Wrap-up

01:00

I Can Do It

Today we read a fiction story about an unfinished robot.

Genre

Fiction

- It describes imaginary events and people.
- The main purpose is to entertain readers.

Key Words

laboratory, surprise, sharp, blade, button
experiment, click, attach

See You Soon!

51TALK

