

The students have read many moral stories in English class over the past week and today in class, they are reviewing which ones were their favorite.

What do you read about in your English class?

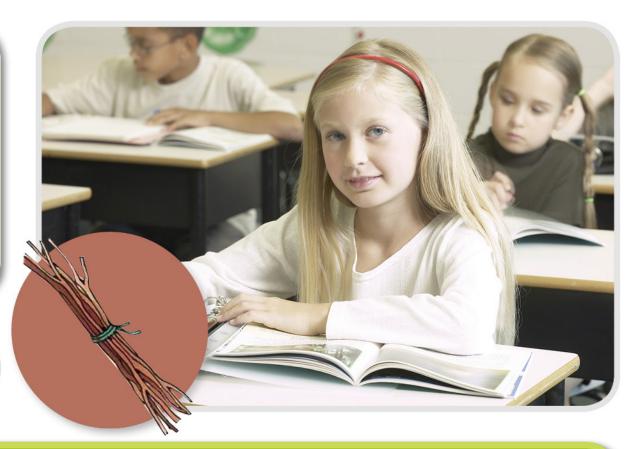

Jenny's favorite moral story was the one about an old man and his two sons, who were fighting over who should inherit their father's house. She especially enjoyed the part where the old man gave his sons a bundle of sticks to break, but neither son had the strength to break them.

What's the moral behind this story?

A. to be honest

B. to never be greedy

C. to be united

Ben's favorite moral story was the one about the golden eggs, where the farmer's goose laid one glimmering gold egg each day. He especially liked the part where the greedy farmer would take the golden eggs to the local market each day to sell.

What's the moral behind this story?

A. to be honest

B. to never be greedy

C. to be united

Ron's favorite moral story was the one about a young boy who had to look after a flock of sheep but kept playing jokes on the people in his village. He especially liked the part when the boy saw a real wolf and cried for help, but no one came.

What's the moral behind this story?

A. to be honest

B. to never be greedy

C. to be united

Retell each story by using the key words from the Word Bank.

Word Bank

inherit, strength, glimmering, greedy, cry, joke

Q1. Which moral story was your favorite? Why?

Q2. Which moral do you think is the most important? Why?

In this lesson, we...

reviewed some of the moral stories.

reviewed the words.

] inherit	strength

¬ 1•	•
	nering	□ greedy
1 (1111 1 11 1	$1 \leftarrow 1 \mid $
_ G III I II I

cry	ioke
,

