

Do you like chatting online with your friends? What do you like to talk about?

Read with the teacher and then answer the question below.

The Internet is a great way for teens to express themselves and meet with their friends on social media sites to share pictures, music, and videos. Now, we will learn how to protect ourselves on social media sites.

Read with the teacher and then answer the question below.

First, always remember that you should never give out any personal information about yourself on social media sites. Stalkers can use details like your phone number and photos and put you in danger.

What would you do if someone asked for your personal information?

Read with the teacher and then answer the questions below.

Second, always be aware of spam e-mails that will try to trick you into giving away your identity information. This contains links where your password information can be accessed.

Have you ever opened spam mail before? How do you know if something is spam mail?

Read with the teacher and then move to the Word Focus.

Lastly, always have a password that is secure. A secure password includes symbols, uppercase and lowercase letters and numbers. That way, it is much safer for you to socialize online.

Word Focus

- My friends and I like to socialize and talk in a coffee shop.
- Who do you socialize with?
