

A lot of people don't know that they are capable of doing great things. Whether it's baking a brownie or building a birdhouse, you can do pretty much anything! Just follow these three simple steps.

Do you remember the ingredients for making brownies?

Step 1

Never stop learning! You shouldn't let a day pass without learning something new. The more things you know, the more you can rely on yourself. The Internet is a great place to learn new things, so don't be afraid to use it.

Do you use the Internet to do your homework?

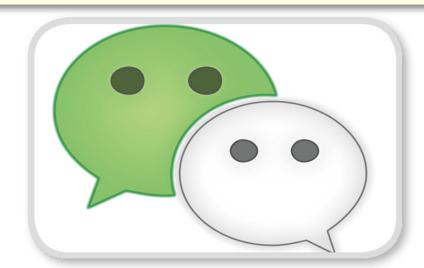

Step 2

Find help around you! Doing things alone can be pretty tiring, so make friends. Make sure you are nice to them, and they'll help you. If you have trouble making friends, try using social media to look for people and initiate new friendships.

Step 3

Believe in yourself! This step is probably the most important. No matter how much you know, or how many friends you have, if you don't believe in yourself, everything will seem hard to do.

Do you agree that this is the most important step?

Let's practice.

Read the Grammar Focus, then read the text below and find all the infinitives.

Grammar Focus

- Infinitive is the base form of the verb. Learn to recognize an infinitive when you see one. To run, to eat, to cry, to sing, to jump, to drink, to read—all of these are infinitives.
- An infinitive always begins with to followed by the base form of the verb. Because an infinitive is not a verb, you cannot add s, es, ed, or ing to the end.
- When I was young, my father taught me how to make kites and how to ride the bicycle.
- Mary always has a book to read with her.
- My mom is angry with me because I refused to wear the clothes she prepared for me.
- They had to cancel the trip to Europe because they didn't have enough money.
