A foreign culture you are interested in

IV. IELTS Speaking Part 2 (20 mins)

1. Read the task card for 10 seconds and get a general idea of this topic. (1 min)

Describe a foreign culture you are interested in.

You should say:

what this culture is

how you know about this culture

what you know about this culture

and explain why you are interested in it.

In the real examination, the examiner will ask you to prepare for 1 minute.

2. Here are the two models for the IELTS Part 2. We will focus on the sentences highlighted below. Students are required to recite these two models after class. (10 mins)

Model 1

How and What: I would like to talk about the British afternoon tea culture. One year ago, I bought a book which introduced British afternoon tea. Once I started reading this book, I became attracted to the culture.

What: The British afternoon tea is a light meal where people usually have sandwiches, scones, cakes and, of course, various kinds of tea. During the tea time, people put their work or other things aside to enjoy the precious moment together with colleagues, family or friends. They have a casual talk over tea and slow down to enjoy life.

Why: I'm very interested in this culture. On one hand, I like the idea of slowing down and enjoying life for a moment. On the other hand, in my opinion, this culture is artistic. All the tea utensils used are very delicate. One can appreciate them while having tea. I hope I can try British afternoon tea in Britain someday.

Model 2

What and how: The first thing that comes to mind is the culture of South Korea's Kimjang. It is the art of eating and sharing Kimchi. I got to know this culture from a documentary on TV. I found it quite fascinating.

What you know: Kimjang's core part is kimchi, which is Korea's national dish. Kimchi appears in stews and soups in Korean cuisine. Often, a meal is considered not complete without a side dish of Kimchi. Also, Kimjang encourages sharing. Normally, Korean women get together to prepare Kimchi in late autumn. When the kimchi is ready, people share it with their neighbours or friends. Some people even give the home-made Kimchi to others as presents.

Why: I'm really into this culture. I didn't realise that such a dish could be the cultural icon of a nation. The dish itself has played an important role in Korean people's daily diet. The process of making the dish has become a part of people's life as well, which helps them bond in many ways.

You are required to talk for the full 2 minutes.

3. Imagine you are a candidate in the IELTS test. The teacher is an examiner. Please answer the questions below with what you have learned to develop your IELTS answers. (9 mins)

Describe a foreign culture you are interested in.

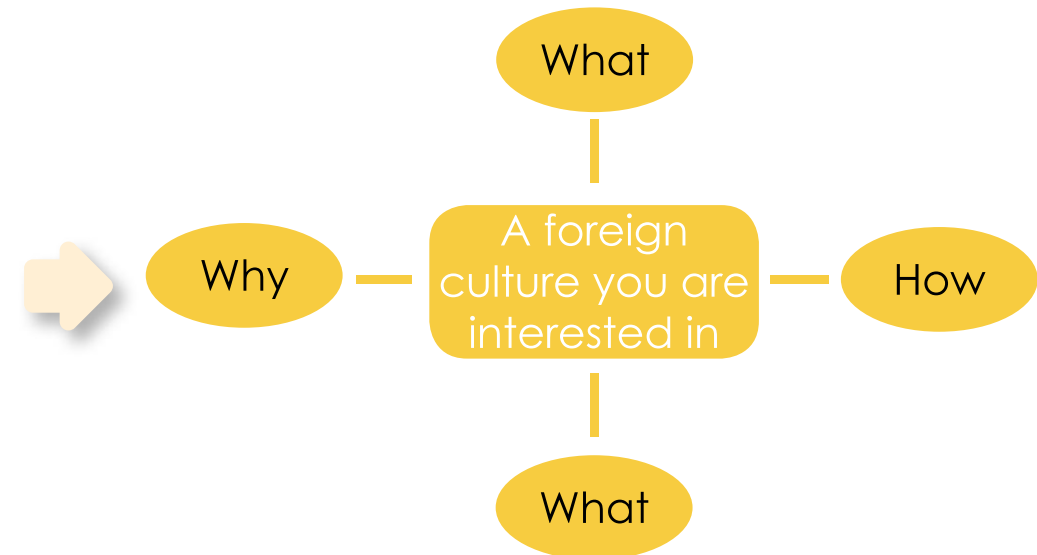

You should say:

what this culture is

how you knew about this culture

what you know about this culture

and explain why you are interested in it.

Homework: please use the models further for these 2 topics after the lesson.

Describe a nation (not your own) you know about.
Describe a country you would like to visit in future.

IELTS Speaking Part 3 (Additional Practice for This Topic)

What do you think people will learn from traveling to other countries? Why?

In the future, do you think that different cultures will come closer together or remain distinct?

How do you think foreign culture is influencing life your country?

Key sentences

Well, frankly speaking I am not quite sure. I know some foreigners can speak my native language Chinese, and some can speak it fluently, but I don't know exactly how many can speak it.

I can't say that Chinese is extremely important in the world nowadays, but personally speaking, the importance of Chinese has increased greatly over the years. The main reason is that a large number of foreign businessmen are making investments in China in order to make money, so it's necessary for them to understand Chinese.

Yes, I do think so because Chinese grammar is not as complicated as English. For example, unlike English, you don't need to remember the rules of tenses in Chinese.

During the tea time, people put their work or other things aside to enjoy the precious moment together with colleagues, family or friends.

All the tea utensils used are very delicate. One can appreciate them while having tea.

I didn't realise that such a dish could be the cultural icon of a nation.

The next lesson will be Unit 7 Topic 6 A foreign language you would like to learn (not English).
