

JOURNEY to the WEST 93

A Problem for the Lion Demon

The elephant and the raptor stared at the lion.

The elephant shook his head slowly.

Wukong laughed. “Nice try, lion!
But I’ ll just turn one of my hairs into a stove.

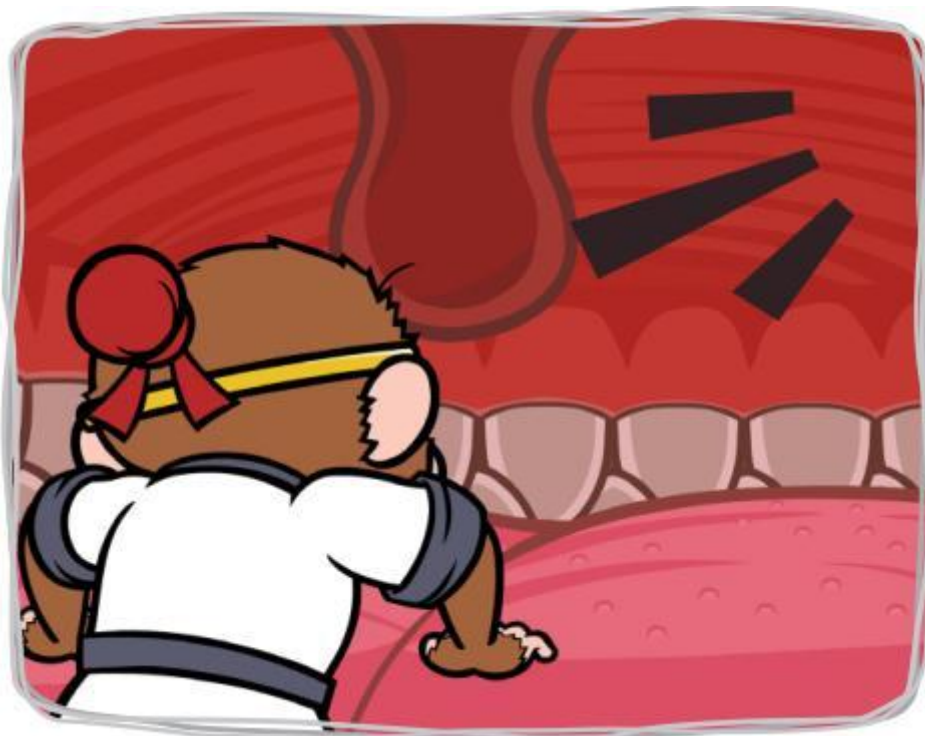

The smoke will fill your head,
and you’ ll never stop sneezing!

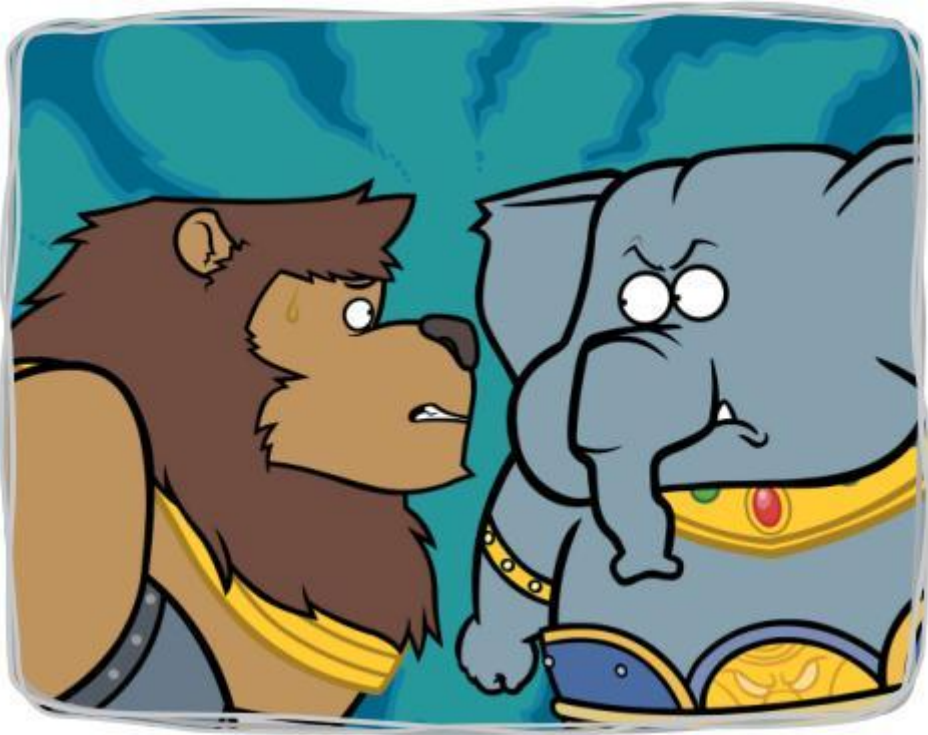

The lion bent over and coughed.

Wukong laughed. “I’ m still in here!”

Wukong started the climb up the lion’ s throat.

“Lion, I have a plan,” whispered the elephant.

“Okay,” said Wukong. “I’ m coming out.”

He held out the iron bar.

“Ow! Ow! Ow!” the lion howled in pain.

Wukong glared at the demons for a moment and Then walked out of the cave.