Describe an activity in an English lesson.

You should say:

what the activity was

when and where you did the activity

how you did it

and explain how you benefited from this activity.

In the real examination, the examiner will ask you to prepare for 1 minute.

2. Here are the two models for the IELTS Part 2. We will focus on the sentences highlighted below. Students are required to recite these two models after class. (10 mins)

Model 1

What, when and where: When I was a freshman, I took part in an activity in an English lesson. This activity was giving a mini-speech. I remember it was held on a Monday in our classroom. This mini-speech required all participants to finish their speeches in English in 5 minutes. Four students took part in this activity, and I was one among them.

How: Two days before my speech, I got my speech draft ready and planned out my body language. I rehearsed in front of a mirror many times. Although I got well prepared, I felt quite nervous when I spoke in front of the whole class. I forgot to say some parts of my speech. Fortunately, I finished my mini-speech anyway.

How you benefit: Although this speech was not that successful, it made me realise that confidence is very important in giving speeches. Since then, I have learned to be confident all the time, and I have been able to win many prizes in many public speaking contests.

Model 2

When and what: Three years ago, I took part in an activity called Vocabulary Race in an English class. It was an interesting activity where students competed to write as many words as they could.

Where and how: This activity was held in my classroom. Our English teacher, James, split us into four teams. Then he explained its rules –without referring to dictionary, the team who writes the most words on a given topic in five minutes will win. As soon as we got the topic of teamwork, we started to brainstorm quickly. Once we thought of a related word, I hurried to write it down. Finally, we succeeded in writing 46 relevant words which was more than any other team.

How: This activity was very helpful because it increased my interest in vocabulary learning. It made me realise that I could remember words through a fun way rather than by boring rote learning. As a result, I can learn words more efficiently than before.

You are required to talk for the full 2 minutes.

3. Imagine you are a candidate in the IELTS test. The teacher is an examiner. Please answer the questions below with what you have learned to develop your IELTS answers. (9 mins)

Describe an activity in an English lesson.

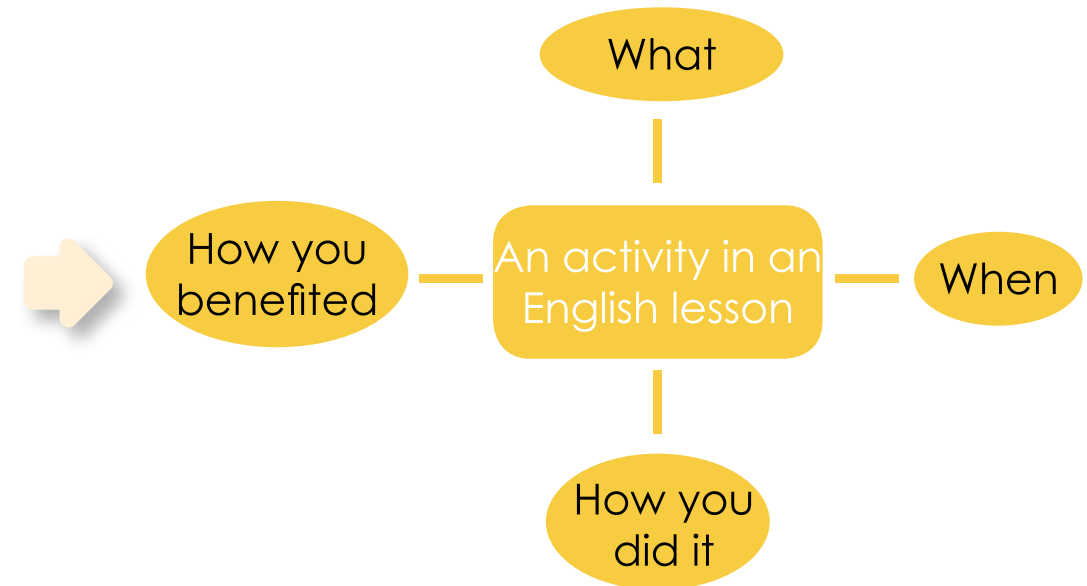

You should say:

what the activity was

when and where you did the activity

how you did it

and explain how you benefited from this activity.

Homework: please use the models further for these 2 topics after the lesson.

Describe a difficult thing you can do well.

Describe a project or some work that you did with others.

Key sentences

Well, it's hard to say . It depends on one's age and workplace.

People may find jobs with decent salaries through changing jobs. However, changing jobs too often may give employers a negative impression.

The only thing that never changes is change itself. That is to say, you can't avoid changes in your life. If they can't be avoided, why not just enjoy them?

Two days before my speech, I got my speech draft ready and planned out my body language. I rehearsed in front of a mirror for many times.

As soon as we got the topic of teamwork, we started to brainstorm quickly.

It made me realise that I could remember words through a fun way rather than by boring rote learning.

The next lesson will be Unit 12 Topic 1 A good law.
