In the real examination, the examiner will ask you to prepare for 1 minute.

3.2 Here is another model for the IELTS Speaking Part 2. We will focus on the sentences highlighted below. (4 mins)

Model 2

What and why you bought it: When I was younger, I liked watching movies alone in my room. I would frequently visit local video stores to purchase newly-released films. Movies have always given me a way to relieve any frustration.

When and where: It was a sunny Saturday afternoon. I went to a local video store to buy a blockbuster film that had just been released. While walking there, I came across a vendor selling the same film for half of the price at the local store. I ended up buying the film from this merchant.

Why: When I arrived home, I found out what a mistake I had made. I put the disk into my DVD Player to play the movie, only to find what appeared on my TV screen was Cinderella, an old Disney animated film, not the one that I had wanted to buy. The next day I went back to the same location that I had made the purchase only to find that the vendor was no longer there. This experience taught me that you should never believe something that seems too good to be true and you should always shop at trusted stores.

You are required to talk for the full 2 minutes.

IV. IELTS Speaking Part 3 (10 mins)

1. Read and learn the following key words and sentences for the IELTS Part 3. You are suggested to apply these words in the following steps. (5 mins)

Key words and key sentences

personalised

Example: I think this answer depends on what things the stores sell rather than their size. I believe the best service comes from those stores that sell expensive items. For example, many stores that sell luxury products often offer amazing personalised services. On the other hand, all-purpose stores that usually have lower quality products for sale also tend to have workers who are not honest to the customers.

conveniently

Example: In my mind, the main advantage of supermarkets is that they are usually conveniently located near popular living areas where people can easily get to. The other advantage to supermarkets is that they provide every possible item that you need. The main disadvantage to these stores is that by having such a large variety of products they can raise prices, which makes customers quite unsatisfied.

dense

Example: Most people purchase from supermarkets because they can offer lower prices than smaller shops due to their enormous size and various products. Another reason is that many supermarkets are located in areas that have a dense population and thus for some people obtaining items from these stores is more practical.

2. Imagine you are a candidate in the IELTS test. The teacher is an examiner. Please answer the questions below with what you have learned to develop your IELTS answers. (5 mins)

Please give two supporting ideas at least for each question.

Are services in big stores and small ones the same?

What are the advantages and disadvantages of supermarkets?

Why do some people choose to shop in supermarkets?

Tips for getting a higher score:

1. Answer directly
2. Give reasons

Key sentences

I also think that our most cherished memories are the ones from our youth and therefore give us something to reflect on when we are adults.

The choice to keep something from childhood will vary on a case-by-case basis. People will choose to keep various items from their childhood. I would imagine that the most common items are personal items such as a diary, a favorite toy, or an item of clothing.

When they get older, it is common to look back on their childhood, and these items they keep function as reminders of those precious memories.

For example, many stores that sell luxury products often offer amazing personalised services. On the other hand, all-purpose stores that usually have lower quality products for sale also tend to have workers who are not honest to the customers.

In my mind, the main advantage of supermarkets is that they are usually conveniently located near popular living areas where people can easily get to.

Another reason is that many supermarkets are located in areas that have a dense population and thus for some people obtaining items from these stores is more practical.
