

JOURNEY to the WEST 52

An Ocean from a Vase

Wukong and Guanyin stood on the lotus platform. . .

“Bodhisattva,” said the spirit. “What can I do for you . . .

Tigers, bears, and other large animals stampeded down the mountainside.

She tipped the vase, and rolling waves of water poured out. . .

Wukong jumped down to the mountain. . .

“Why didn’ t my fire magic work?” asked the demon. . .

The monkey blocked the lance with his iron bar. . .

The two fought until Wukong, pretending to be scared, leaped into the air. . .

Wukong hurried toward Guanyin on the lotus platform. . .

Red Boy looked at the empty lotus platform. . .

Sharp points stuck at him on all sides. . .
