

JOURNEY to the WEST 43

A Visit from Laozi

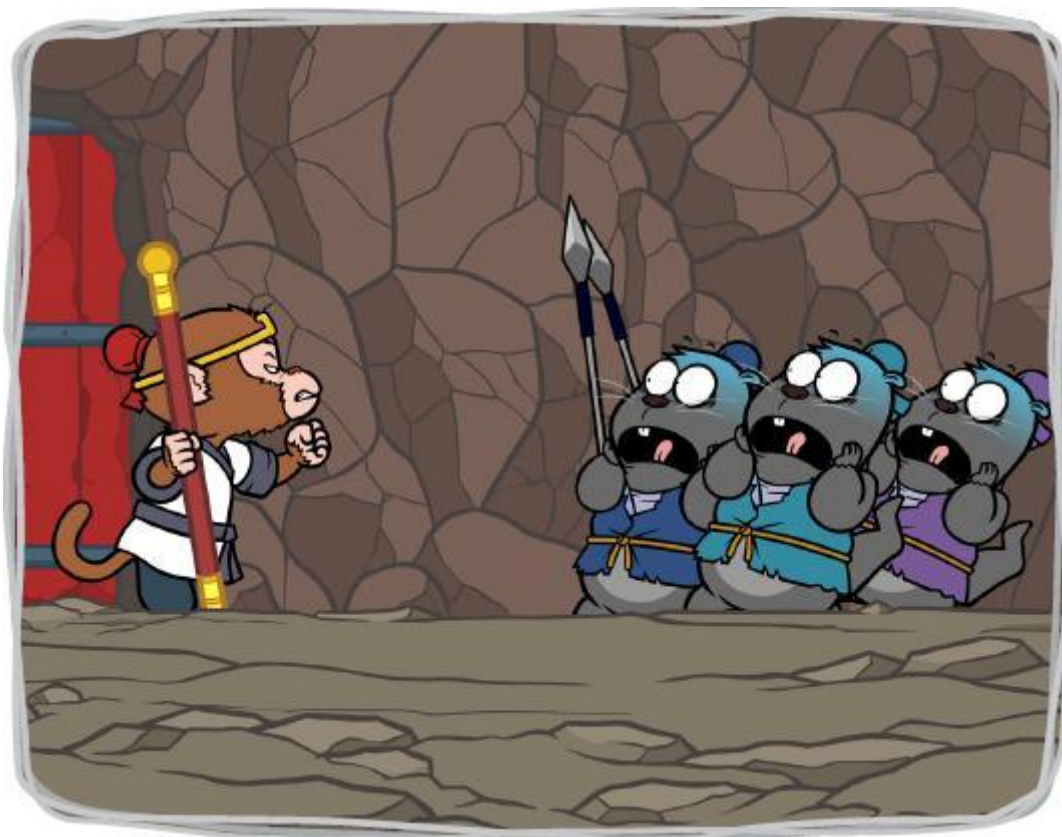

Golden Horn scowled at Wukong. . .

The demon looked carefully at the gourd. . .

Shloomp! Instantly the demon was sucked into the gourd. . .

Several demons were inside. . .

After a quick search of the cave. . .

“We thought you were trapped under mountains,” said the Tang Monk. . .

The travelers hurried west along the road. . .

“Give me back my gourd!” said the old man. . .

Wukong took the gourd out of his robe and handed it to the sage. . .

As night fell they arrived at a monastery. . .

A man stood in the doorway, dripping wet. . .
