

51Talk IELTS Speaking-Advanced 雅思口语高级
——冲刺 7.5 分

Unit 11 Education

Topic 3—Lesson 2(下篇)

Experience of learning English

IELTS Speaking Part 2 (10 minutes)

You will be given one minute to prepare to talk about the topic on the task card. You will have to talk for 1-2 minutes, and then the teacher will give you feedback for 2-3mins. (5 minutes)

Describe your experience of learning English.

You should say:

when you began to learn English

what successes you had and what challenges you met what equipment or books you used and explain whether learning English is difficult for you.

Tips: During the first stage of Part 2, you don't need to talk. Keep the questions in mind and think them over.

2.3 Here is another model for the IELTS Speaking Part 2. We will focus on the words and expressions highlighted and in red below. (5 minutes)

Model 2

When you began to learn English: My early childhood memories consist of many English lessons and various English teachers. Starting at the tender age of five my parents became devoted to my education and they saw it fit to have my second language be English.

What success you had and what challenges: My many successes were in part due to my many knowledgeable teachers and private tutors. I became extremely good at pronunciation thanks to a speech tutor and equally good at grammar thanks to an excellent specialised grammar instructor. For me, the main challenge was learning new words and developing a decent sized vocabulary.

What books you used: The amount and titles of the various books I have used over the years are quite difficult to remember. The only book that I do happen to remember quite well was Shirley English during my days of studying English syntax and grammar.

Explain if learning English was difficult: Learning another language other than your own is a difficult endeavour. It requires patience and constant focus. For me and for young people all over these attributes are normally quite hard to come by, making learning any language difficult. English proved to be especially hard for me to learn as it is so different from the Chinese language.

IV. IELTS Speaking Part 3 (10 mins)

1. Please answer the following question from Part 3. According to your answer, the teacher will give you feedback on how to improve your organisational skills. (5 minutes)

How to organise your answer in Part 3:

I: Introduction Sentence + P: Points (Point1, Point2...)

What's difficult about learning English?

I: What's most difficult about learning English, I suspect, is similar to many other languages, which should be grammar and syntax.

P1: As is commonly known to learners, English grammar is quite formally structured and has obligatory rules you must follow in order to be completely understood. This is especially an obstacle for Chinese people due to the sharp difference between English and our mother tongue.

P2: Also, the syntax in English makes studying English a challenging task, because it has to follow a strict formula in order to be mastered and it does not allow for much deviation.

2. You will learn some key words and expressions from these questions. Pay attention to the structure of the underlined sentences, and the words in red. (5 minutes)

Key Words and Models

What's boring about learning English?

 I suppose that the most boring aspect of learning English is practicing listening. Although I know it is important to be able to listen to and comprehend English through auditory skills, I find it quite dull in comparison to other areas of learning English. For example, the most common way to practice listening is to have the teacher play boring videos, which more often than not are outdated, continuously for minutes on end and then answer obvious questions about the video.

When do most people in your country start learning English

 The vast majority of people in China start learning English from a very young age, but this is also contingent on where they grow up. Most Chinese students that are lucky enough to live in a well-populated and urban environment have the luxury of gaining access to many government funded public schools that have English language programmes for all ages. However, many Chinese students living in rural areas oftentimes do not have the same benefit and will in all likelihood not have English classes until high school or possibly later in life.

V. Summary (5 minutes)

Key Words & Expressions

in part

syntax

come by obligatory

in comparison to be contingent on

Key Sentences

My many successes were in part due to my many knowledgeable teachers and private tutors.

The only book that I do happen to remember quite well was Shirley English during my days of studying English syntax and grammar.

For me and for young people all over these attributes are normally quite hard to come by, making learning any language difficult.

The reason is that English grammar is so formally structured and has obligatory rules you must follow in order to be completely understood.

Although I know it is important to be able to listen to and comprehend English through auditory skills, I find it quite dull in comparison to other areas of learning English.

The vast majority of people in China start learning English from a very young age, but this is also contingent on where they grow up.

The next lesson will be Unit 11 Topic 4 A subject that you liked/disliked.