

51Talk IELTS Speaking-Advanced 雅思口语高级
——冲刺 7.5 分

Unit 12 Others

Topic 1—Lesson 1(上篇)

A good law

I. Pronunciation Practice (2 minutes)

Voiced and Unvoiced '-ed' Endings

The past tense ending 'ed' has three pronunciations:
/t/, /d/, and /ɪd/.

Example:

watched /t/

planned /d/

graded /ɪd/

Read the following sentences and pay attention to the pronunciation of 'ed' endings.

1. The wine flowed /d/ and we danced /t/ the night away.

2. He stopped and watched with amusement to see the child so absorbed.

II. IELTS Speaking Part 1 (8 minutes)

Extend your answer to 3-4 sentences. It's easier to get 7.5.

1. Imagine you are a candidate in the IELTS test. The teacher is an examiner. Please answer the questions below with what you have learned to develop your IELTS answers. (4 minutes)

What kinds of things make you laugh?

Do you like making other people laugh? Why or why not?

Do you think it is important for people to laugh? Why or why not?

The examiner will score your answer from the following aspects:

1. How good you are at keeping talking at the right speed and connecting your ideas together;
2. How much vocabulary you have and how well you use it;
3. How many structures you have and how well you use them;
4. How well you pronounce the language.

2. Read and learn the following key words and models for the IELTS Part 1. You are suggested to apply these words in the following steps. (4 minutes)

Key Words and Models

expressive

 Example: I am a very expressive person, so I appreciate comedies that are both absurd and truthful. To this effect, I'm attracted to varying types of satire. Particularly, I love comedies aimed at popular culture, because many things that people like, even if misguided, are outrageously funny just for being taken too serious! The best medium for this type of comedy are late night talk shows because they do not pull any punches and usually make me laugh just by being straightforward.

fear the worst

 Example: I prefer to be the laughing one. Personally, this stems from a deep seated ability to always fear the worst! I never want what I say to be taken out of context and I never want to offend people by saying something inappropriate. I am afraid that any misstep in my social interactions could have negative effects on my relationships, both personal and professional.

brunt of a joke

 Example: Although I do not like to be the brunt of a joke myself, I do place a lot of value on laughter. There have been many scientific studies that have shown that people who laugh live longer than people who don't laugh as much. This alone for me proves that it is very important to laugh and enjoy yourself while you are alive on this planet.

III. IELTS Speaking Part 2 (12 minutes)

1. Brainstorm. Plan your answers based on the given questions. (1 minute)

Describe a good law that brought positive changes.

- What was it?
- When was it passed?
- How did you know about it?
- Why is it a good law?

Tips: During the first stage of Part 2, you don't need to talk. Keep the questions in mind and think them over.

2.1 Here is a model for the IELTS Speaking Part 2. We will focus on the words and expressions highlighted and in red below. (8 minutes)

Model 1

What it was and how you know: Our lives are governed by laws, and they are what ensure our security and safety both economically and physically. Needless to say, all laws were designed with the good in mind. Among all such laws, I would regard the Patent Law as the most important and ingenious. I acquired this law from my textbook when I was in university. It is such a good law that it is supposed to be the one whose benefits are widely spread throughout the country.

When it passed: The Patent Law of China, for example, was first adopted during the Sixth National People's Congress on March 12, 1984 and amended in accordance with the Decision of the Standing Committee afterwards. The patent law grants safety and stability for the inventors, thus sparking an incentive for all in society to give it a shot and try something new.

Why it is a good law: Ever since the law took effect, an increasing number of creative people have been encouraged to utilise their wisdom and make great contributions to the enhancement of social prosperity in all fields. Obviously, the Patent Law would help promote innovation, without which rapid social and economic progress cannot be guaranteed in the modern world. Moreover, people's lives are so closely associated with this law in so many ways that it's practically indispensable.

注: Patent Law 中华人民共和国专利法

You are required to talk for the full 2 minutes.

2.2 Imagine you are a candidate in the IELTS test. The teacher is an examiner. Please answer the questions below with what you have learned to develop your IELTS answers. (3 minutes)

Describe a good law that brought positive changes.

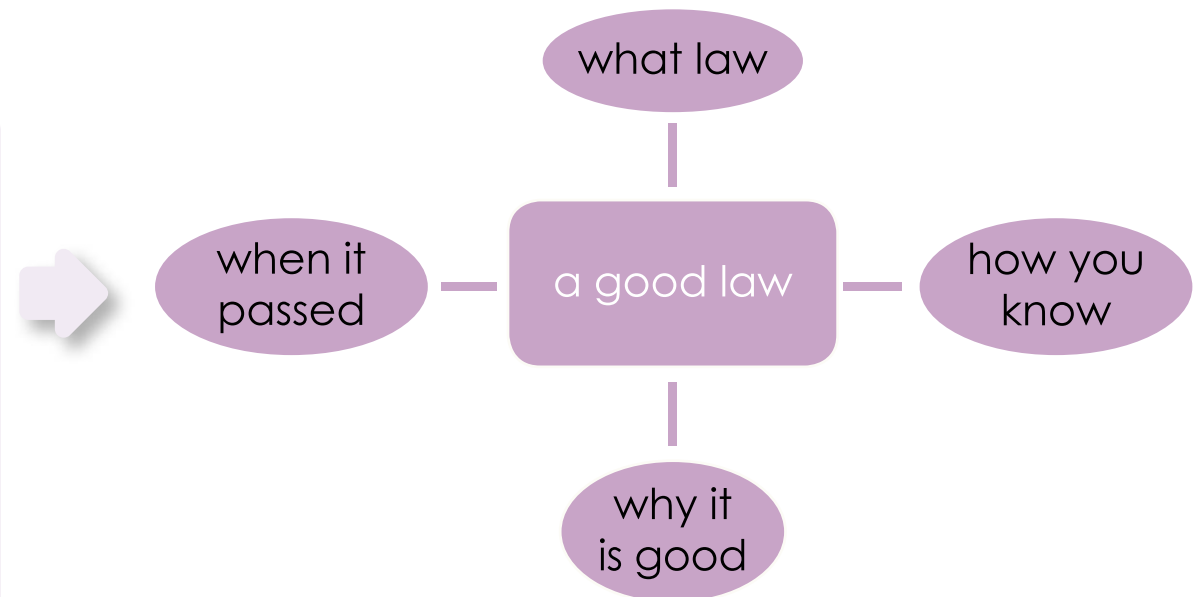

You should say:

what law it is

when it was passed

how you know about it and explain why it is a good law.

Homework: Please use the model for these two topics for further practice.

Describe a law that you know.

Describe a good law in your country.

Review (2 minutes)

Key Words & Expressions

expressive

fear the worst

brunt of a joke

govern

in accordance with guarantee

Key Sentences

I am a very expressive person, so I appreciate comedies that are both absurd and truthful.

Personally, this stems from a deep seated ability to always fear the worst!

Although I do not like to be the brunt of a joke myself, I do place a lot of value on laughter.

Our lives are governed by laws, and they are what ensure our security and safety both economically and physically.

The Patent Law of China, for example, was first adopted during the Sixth National People's Congress on March 12, 1984 and amended in accordance with the Decision of the Standing Committee afterwards.

Obviously, the Patent Law would help promote innovation, without which rapid social and economic progress cannot be guaranteed in the modern world.

You will learn more about this topic in Lesson 2.