You should say:

what the game was

who you used to play it with how you played it and explain why you liked this game.

In the real examination, the examiner will ask you to prepare for 1 minute.

2. Here are the two models for the IELTS Part 2. We will focus on the sentences highlighted below. Students are required to recite these two models after class. (10 mins)

Model 1

What: Speaking of a game I liked when I was a kid, I would definitely say it was hide-and-seek. It's the easiest but the most thrilling game ever.

Who you played with: I remember I used to play this game with my buddies, mostly six to ten close friends.

How you played it: First we would choose a member to be the seeker; the rest had to find places to hide themselves. The seeker had to cover his/her eyes and count from one to ten. After that, he or she would open his or her eyes and do his or her best to find us. Finally, the first guy caught would be the next seeker.

Why you liked it: It was a great way to spend time together with my friends. Our parents were happy to see their kids letting off steam while having fun at the same time. Additionally, it doesn't require any equipment. All we needed to do was to find a secret location and hide ourselves safely.

Model 2

What and who: When I was in primary school, I liked playing a game called “I’m Thinking” with friends in my neighbourhood.

How: This game was simple but competitive. It began with a child thinking of an object. It could be a person, place, a living creature, or anything else. When the child was ready, he could announce to other players what he had chosen. For example, he might say, “I’m thinking of an animal.” The other players then asked the child yes or no questions about the animal until someone guessed the specific animal. The person who guessed right got to be the next one to think of something.

Why: I liked this game because I was always the winner in the game. I could guess the answer quickly and correctly while others were still thinking. Also, I enjoyed spending time with my friends.

You are required to talk for the full 2 minutes.

3. Imagine you are a candidate in the IELTS test. The teacher is an examiner. Please answer the questions below with what you have learned to develop your IELTS answers. (9 mins)

Key sentences

Yes, I do. I just went to Gem's concert in Beijing last week.

I personally prefer going to concerts rather than listening to recordings of music because live music is much more exciting. You can sense the energy of the crowd and the performers, and the bright lights make the atmosphere come alive. You can't feel this kind of energy with recorded music.

People can not only enjoy the sound and visual effects, but also feel the atmosphere from the concert. What's more, they can feel the happiness from within.

All the kids loved this game a lot including me in my childhood, because it was a great way to kill time and let off steam.

This game was simple but competitive.

The other players then asked the child yes or no questions about the animal until someone guessed the specific animal. The person who guessed right got to be the next one to think of something.
