

51Talk IELTS Speaking-Advanced

雅思口语高级

——冲刺 7.5 分

Unit 2 Food

Topic 2—Lesson 2(下篇)

One of the dishes you like to cook the most

IELTS Speaking Part 2 (10 minutes)

You will be given one minute to prepare to talk about the topic on the task card. You will have to talk for 1-2 minutes, and then the teacher will give you feedback for 2-3mins. (5 minutes)

Describe one of the dishes you like to cook the most.

You should say:

from whom you learned to cook

how is this dish cooked who you usually cook it for and explain why you like to cook it.

Tips: During the first stage of Part 2, you don't need to talk. Keep the questions in mind and think them over.

2.3 Here is another model for the IELTS Speaking Part 2. We will focus on the words and expressions highlighted and in red below. (5 minutes)

Model 2

Why: The dishes I prepare for my parents vary from time to time; however, my favourite dish to be cooked for them is by far a pie. Making pies is quite simple and it gives lots of leeway in being creative. I prefer to cook pies also because I hardly take any preparation to make them at all, so you just decide what kind of pie you want to make, and then throw the ingredients together, such a time-saver!

Who: In my family we have a long-held tradition of my cooking a dish for my parents before I set off for another school term. I suppose this is the most sincere way for me to express my gratitude to them for everything they have done for me.

From whom: Most of the time I search the Internet on how to specifically make a pie and what ingredients to use, thus ensuring everything is done correctly so as not to disappoint my parents.

How: Gathering the ingredients is the easiest part and the most difficult part is rolling the dough to make the pie crust, as this usually requires constant kneading. Normally, I choose to make a blueberry pie and after mixing the contents, I throw it in the oven and I am finished.

IV. IELTS Speaking Part 3 (10 mins)

1. Please answer the following question from Part 3. According to your answer, the teacher will give you feedback on how to improve your organisational skills. (5 minutes)

How to organise your answer in Part 3:

I: Introduction Sentence + P: Points (Point1, Point2...)

In terms of cooking, what are the differences between cookbooks and cooking TV programmes?

I: The major difference between cookbooks and cooking TV programmes is the way they utilise to teach others how to prepare certain meals.

P1: Cookbooks present people with written information that provides a strict step-by-step procedure to follow. Also, cookbooks offer a wide variety of recipes to choose from, making the method a convenient option.

P2: Conversely, instructive cooking TV shows present people with vivid visual instructions that are much easier to imitate, but often limited to a few dishes.

2. You will learn some key words and expressions from these questions. Pay attention to the structure of the underlined sentences, and the words in red. (5 minutes)

Key Words and Models

Do you think it is necessary for children to learn to cook?

 There is no denying that it is essential for grownups to learn to cook since they usually live on their own, but for children it is quite unnecessary. Children rely on their parents to provide for them, which means cooking meals and preparing food especially for them. Likewise, cooking is a non-essential skill for children to learn as they are often busy learning other more crucial skills that are worthy of attention, such as socialising with their peers and learning to read and write.

Do young people in your country usually cook by themselves or eat in restaurants? Why?

 It depends on how you define 'young'. If you are referring to college students in my country, they most certainly have the habit of eating out at restaurants. They often eat out for social reasons, since eating out, as a normal social activity in college, provides an opportunity for students to have more fluid interactions with friends and strangers alike in a relaxing atmosphere. Also, the fact that in China college students are not allowed to cook in the dormitory means that eating out is usually the only option.

V. Summary (5 minutes)

Key Words & Expressions

leeway

throw sth. together

express one's gratitude to grownup

worthy of attention

have fluid interactions with

Key Sentences

Making pies is quite simple and it gives lots of leeway in being creative.

So you just decide what kind of pie you want to make, and then throw the ingredients together, such a time-saver!

I suppose this is the most sincere way for me to express my gratitude to them for everything they have done for me.

There is no denying that it is essential for grownups to learn to cook since they usually live on their own.

Likewise, cooking is a non-essential skill for children to learn as they are often busy learning other more crucial skills that are worthy of attention.

It provides an opportunity for students to have more fluid interactions with friends and strangers alike in a relaxing atmosphere.

The next lesson will be Unit 2 Topic 3 A meal you particularly enjoyed.