

51Talk IELTS Speaking-Advanced

雅思口语高级

——冲刺 7.5 分

Unit 2 Food

Topic 3—Lesson 2(下篇)

A meal you particularly enjoyed

IELTS Speaking Part 2 (10 minutes)

You will be given one minute to prepare to talk about the topic on the task card. You will have to talk for 1-2 minutes, and then the teacher will give you feedback for 2-3mins. (5 minutes)

Describe a meal you particularly enjoyed.

You should say:

where you ate it

what you ate

who you were with

and explain why you enjoyed it.

Tips: During the first stage of Part 2, you don't need to talk. Keep the questions in mind and think them over.

2.3 Here is another model for the IELTS Speaking Part 2. We will focus on the words and expressions highlighted and in red below. (5 minutes)

Model 2

Where & who: A spectacular meal I had a long time ago was during one of my normal work days. A colleague of mine and I decided to go out for lunch, as opposed to staying in and ordering food. We walked a few blocks until we stumbled into a nice and quiet family-owned restaurant which none of us had frequented.

What: I ordered the special of the day, which happened to be steamed buns or baoz with the family's own secret sauce on them. The steamed buns were filled with what seemed like the freshest seafood, but what really made the meal memorable was the sauce. It was definitely so tasty that I could never describe it accurately; however, I will say that it had a tangy after taste to it.

Why: Not only was that particular meal delightful, but the family that prepared it was extremely nice. We had a remarkable conversation about the history of baoz and how long they had been engaged in the catering industry. This is what eating out is all about: good food and great conversations!

IV. IELTS Speaking Part 3 (10 mins)

1. Please answer the following question from Part 3. According to your answer, the teacher will give you feedback on how to improve your organisational skills. (5 minutes)

How to organise your answer in Part 3:

T: Topic Sentence + S: Supporting Details (Explanation/Examples)

Do you think there will be more choices of food available in shops in the future, or will there be fewer choices?

T: According to the current tendency, I do believe that people will have access to a wider range of food in shops in the near future.

S1: With increasing globalisation and cultural exchanges, internationally sourced foodstuffs will become more and more prevalent and variegated with the passage of time. Thus, it is foreseeable that food diversity in stores shall be enhanced.

S2: Also, due to the advances in economy, people's overall living standard will become higher. Conceivably, average consumers will demand that a larger variety of food be supplied in stores. To meet their needs, food manufacturers will strive to diversify their products.

2. You will learn some key words and expressions from these questions. Pay attention to the structure of the underlined sentences, and the words in red. (5 minutes)

Key Words and Models

What effects have modern technology had on the way food is produced?

Modern technology has had drastic effects on the food processing and manufacturing industry in the 20th and 21st centuries. Food processing technology in the modern era began with the introduction of canning. Canning is the process of adding preservative materials and chemicals, such as salt or sodium benzoate, into a metal package. This allows for the long-term storage of a food item. The advent of freeze drying and the introduction of artificial sweeteners have allowed for the phenomena of ready-made meals or frozen dinners. Meanwhile, these advances combined with other new technology have enabled food manufacturing to take place on a massive scale.

How important is it for a country to be able to grow all the food it needs, without importing any from other countries?

It depends on the different situations in different periods of time. In peacetime, access to international markets ensures that as long as a country has the financial standing to purchase foodstuffs, it will not starve, and thus the ability to grow all the food it needs is of tertiary importance. However, this situation unfortunately does not hold in times of war, when even the supply of basic staple foods could be cut off. In that case, it is more important for countries to provide for themselves.

V. Summary (5 minutes)

Key Words & Expressions

frequent

steamed bun

catering industry

with the passage of time

tertiary staple

Key Sentences

We walked a few blocks until we stumbled into a nice and quiet family-owned restaurant which none of us had frequented.

I ordered the special of the day, which happened to be steamed buns or baoz with the family's own secret sauce on them.

We had a remarkable conversation about the history of baoz and how long they had been engaged in the catering industry.

Internationally sourced foodstuffs will become more and more prevalent and variegated with the passage of time.

The ability to grow all the food it needs is of tertiary importance.

This situation unfortunately does not hold in times of war, when even the supply of basic staple foods could be cut off.

The next lesson will be Unit 2 Topic 4 A picnic or an outdoor meal.