1. Please read and remember the answers for each question in the IELTS Part 1 if needed.
(5 mins)

What is the biggest change in family structure in China recently?

About twenty years ago, three or four generations lived together. Nowadays, families are getting smaller and smaller. Only two generations live together.

Do you think it is good for young people to live with their grandparents?

No, I don't think so. Normally, grandparents spoil their grandchildren.

Should parents award their kids when they get some achievements?

Yes, they should, but I believe they should give oral praise, not material awards.

Two or three sentences for each question will be enough.

2. Imagine you are a candidate in the IELTS test. The teacher is an examiner. Please answer the questions below with what you have learned to develop your IELTS answers. (5 mins)
