Unit 9 Event

Topic 2—Lesson 1(上篇)

A party you enjoyed

I. Pronunciation Practice (2 minutes)

Sound Changes with Consonants

In an affirmative 'can', the 'can' is pronounced as /kn/. The modal verb 'can' in the sentence is unstressed; the main verb is stressed.

Read the following sentences and pay attention to the pronunciation of 'can'.

1. We can swim in the lake. (kn)
2. I can cook pizza. (kn)
3. She can read Italian and Russian. (kn)

II. IELTS Speaking Part 1 (8 minutes)

Extend your answer to 3-4 sentences. It's easier to get 7.5.

1. Imagine you are a candidate in the IELTS test. The teacher is an examiner. Please answer the questions below with what you have learned to develop your IELTS answers. (4 minutes)

How do you usually contact your friends? Why?

Do you prefer to contact different people in different ways? Why?

In your country, did people in the past keep in contact in the same ways as they do today?

The examiner will score your answer from the following aspects:

1. How good you are at keeping talking at the right speed and connecting your ideas together;
2. How much vocabulary you have and how well you use it;
3. How many structures you have and how well you use them;
4. How well you pronounce the language.

2. Read and learn the following key words and models for the IELTS Part 1. You are suggested to apply these words in the following steps. (4 minutes)

Key Words and Models

beat around the bush

 Example: I usually contact my friends via text messages because it makes beating around the bush far more difficult than if you call. Text messaging is more efficient because you have to deliver your message in a limited amount of words. Also, using text messages allows you to express even more emotions in symbolic forms by way of emojis, which in my opinion have created a communication revolution that will continue to evolve well into the foreseeable future.

bleed through

 Example: The way I contact people is highly dependent on my relationship with them. For close personal relationships I prefer to video chat because it allows for a great range of emotions to bleed through. When I am contacting my colleagues or friends, I will use a combination of text messaging and calling as it is far less personal and more appropriate for quick interactions.

superficially

 Example: According to my own research, people in China in the past, especially before the advent of the telephone, used to keep in touch by telegram services and the traditional mail carrier. Therefore, in China it used to be much more popular to send handwritten letters for all manner of purposes and this could possibly be seen in modern China as the origin, or at least superficially the starting place, of our document and stamp obsessed culture.

III. IELTS Speaking Part 2 (12 minutes)

1. Brainstorm. Plan your answers based on the given questions. (1 minute)

Describe a party that you enjoyed.

- Whose party was it and what was it celebrating?
- Where was the party held and who went to it?
- What did people do during the party?
- What did you enjoy about this party?

Tips: During the first stage of Part 2, you don't need to talk. Keep the questions in mind and think them over.

2.1 Here is a model for the IELTS Speaking Part 2. We will focus on the words and expressions highlighted and in red below. (8 minutes)

Model 1

Whose party, what celebrating: This is a tough question to answer, as I am not exactly a fan of most types of parties. However, I will say that I do show a great interest in small get-togethers that are informal and have at least some kind of alcoholic beverage available for consumption. That being said, one party most enjoyed recently was a farewell party for a friend.

Where held, who went: This party was held at a neutral venue. We ended up renting out a small bar that was located near the centre of town. Owing to such an advantageous location, all of our closest friends were able to attend.

What people did at the party: Since this was a farewell party, we mostly sat around in a circle and recounted past tales of intrigue and hilarity that we had all been a part of. We spent a good deal of time playing drinking games while making the best of our final hours together. We also took turns proposing toasts aimed at our departing guest of honour.

What you enjoyed about the party: To be frank, I enjoyed the concept of this party rather than the actual party itself. Having a final celebration to honour long standing friendships is a beautiful way to say “thank you” and “bon voyage”. I will always remember that night fondly and hope that if I ever decide to leave and never return, I will be shown the same kindness.

You are required to talk for the full 2 minutes.

2.2 Imagine you are a candidate in the IELTS test. The teacher is an examiner. Please answer the questions below with what you have learned to develop your IELTS answers. (3 minutes)

Describe a party that you enjoyed.

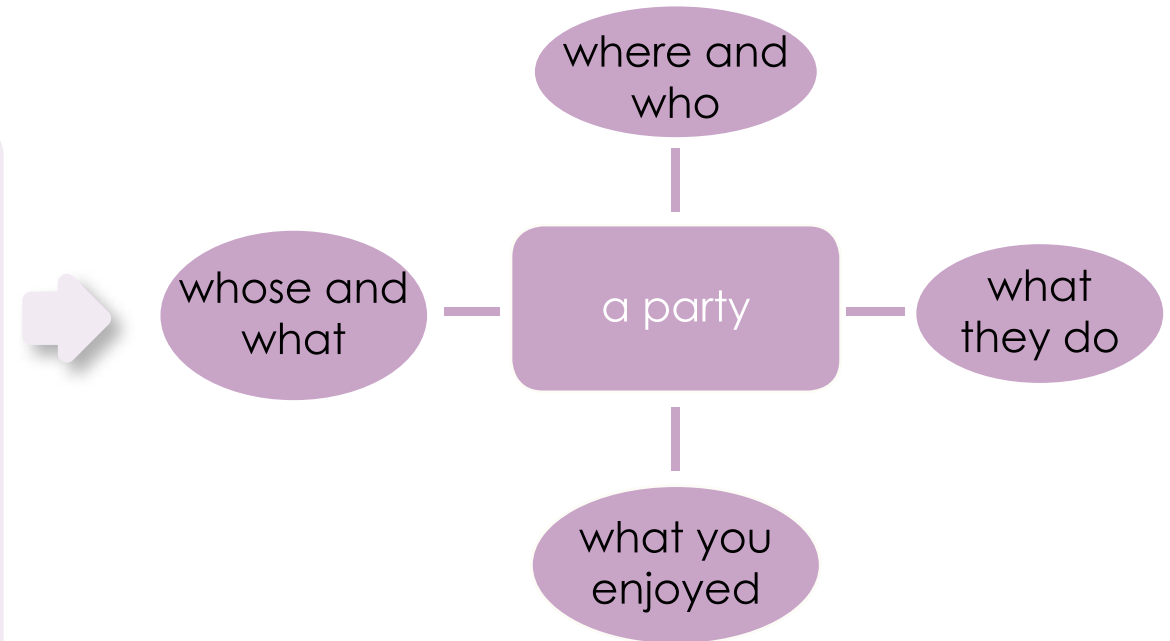

You should say:

whose party it was and what it was celebrating

where the party was held and who went to it

what people did during the party and explain what you enjoyed about this party.

Homework: Please use the model for these two topics for further practice.

Describe a party you went to.

Describe a party you remember well.
