Model 1

Who: My best friend Jennifer is very important to me.

When and where: I met Jennifer in Guangdong, my hometown, around 15 years ago. We went to the same primary school and we have been close friends since then.

What things you do: Jennifer and I share similar interests. Both of us are big fans of music. She is good at playing the guitar and I like singing. We enjoy practising popular songs together. We also enjoy outdoor activities. Hiking in the mountains is our favourite.

Why: Jennifer is important to me. We have been friends for 15 years. That means a lot to me. Jennifer is always by my side. She has been there for me during the good times and the bad. We also share the same hobbies. I feel lucky to have someone who understands me and shares the same interests with me.

Model 2

Who: A friend that is important to me is Alice. She has been my friend for quite a long time now.

When and where: I met this person during my first day of college five years ago in Beijing. Since then, we've become friends and shared our ups and downs.

What things you do: We do plenty of interesting and meaningful things like going to concerts or the library together. We used to attend lectures together when we were in school and go to the library to do research. Now that we're both graduated, we usually just meet up, play badminton and talk about our daily life and work. She is a good companion to me.

Why: The reason I love to be with her is that we feel comfortable around each other. She has seen me at my best and at my worst, and she literally knows everything about me. That's what a good friend is all about.

You are required to talk for the full 2 minutes.
