Model 1

When and what: One of the positive changes in my life happened at the beginning of this year, after I made the New Year's resolution. For this year, I decided to make just one realistic change in my life: do more reading.

At first, I set myself specific goals. I wrote them down on a piece of paper and posted it on my study wall: switch off the TV an hour earlier than usual and do reading; take a book with me whenever I take the bus or subway; after doing all this, I told my best friends about my plan. I thought if I made my intentions public, it would be more difficult to break them.

Why and how: At the end of the first month, I checked my progress. I was amazed to find the results were beyond my expectation. I finished one and half books I bought years ago. I have stuck to the habit of reading till now. I think it is the most positive change in my life.
