Key words and key sentences

end up doing (sth.)

 Example: It is truly difficult to give you a direct “yes” or “no” answer. Occasionally, I like meeting new people because I can end up having great conversations and making good friends, whereas sometimes I find it to be an anxious experience. I unwillingly start over-thinking what I should say, and even start over-analysing what the other person will think of me, which overall causes me to feel quite nervous.

 Example: I would say someone who is trustworthy, considerate and reliable is likely to be my friend. The reason is quite simple — people who possess these qualities also have the qualities I strive to actualise in myself. The company you keep determines the person you will become. They can help you deal with the ups and downs of life and can help encourage you to pursue your dreams and achieve your goals.

meet up

 Example: I believe it is entirely possible to be friends with someone you’ve never met. Even lifelong friendships can be formed this way. I’ve heard of pen-pals who had never really met up in person, but could still communicate naturally. These days, it’s very easy to make new friends on social networking sites like Facebook and Twitter. Just choose your friends wisely.

Extend your answer to 3-4 sentences. It's easier to get 6.5.

2. Imagine you are a candidate in the IELTS test. The teacher is an examiner. Please answer the questions below with what you have learned to develop your IELTS answers. (5 mins)

Do you like meeting new people?

What kind of people do you like to have as friends?

Do you think it is possible to be friends with someone if you never meet them in person?

Tips for getting a higher score:

1. Answer directly
2. Give reasons

III. IELTS Speaking Part 2 (20 mins)

1. Read the task card for 10 seconds and get a general idea of this topic. (1 min)

You should say:

what the project or work was

when you did it

who was/were with you

how you guys did it

and explain how you felt about it.

In the real examination, the examiner will ask you to prepare for 1 minute.

2. Read and learn the following key words and sentences for the IELTS Part 2. You are suggested to apply these words in the following steps. (6 mins)

Key words and key sentences

publicise

3.1 Here is a model for the IELTS Speaking Part 2. We will focus on the sentences highlighted below. (4 mins)

Model 1

What: The first project that comes to mind is a charity art auction my friends and I organised to raise money for earthquake relief.

When and who: In 2008, a large earthquake struck Sichuan, a province in Southwest China. To help people in the earthquake-stricken area, three friends and I decided to organise a charity art auction. We were part of a national philanthropic effort mobilised to supply relief supplies to the affected region.

How: In order to organise the auction, one friend and I planned to sell our paintings. My two friends designed some posters and plastered them up to publicise this activity. On the day of the auction, everything proceeded smoothly according to plan. The auction attracted around 200 students, and all of the paintings were sold out within two hours.

How you felt about it: I feel that by organising this auction, I have become an active participant in a meaningful effort to help others. With the support of many students, we were able to sell all of our paintings in a timely fashion, and immediately transfer the money to several charitable organisations. Although the money we raised was only a drop in the ocean — what is the ocean made up of, but of little drops?
