Unit 10 Media

Topic 4—Lesson 2(下篇)

Your favourite TV programme

Read the task card for 10 seconds and get a general idea of this topic. (1 min)

Describe your favourite TV programme.

You should say:

what the name of the programme is

what it is mainly about

how often you watch it

and explain why you like it.

In the real examination, the examiner will ask you to prepare for 1 minute.

3.2 Here is another model for the IELTS Speaking Part 2. We will focus on the sentences highlighted below. (4 mins)

Model 2

What: A couple of years ago, I became interested in an American reality TV show called The Apprentice. Though the show is no longer well-received in America, it has been growing in popularity in China.

What about: The program consists of eight young men and women who are required to complete various tasks or projects in each episode in two different teams. The team that fails to complete their assigned task has a team member fired. The last contestant standing becomes an apprentice to Donald Trump, a fabulously wealthy real estate developer. In addition, the winner receives a job with an annual salary of $250,000.

How often: My sister and I are both huge fans of this show, and generally watch it together on the weekends.

Why: There are two primary reasons why I'm very enthusiastic about watching The Apprentice. Firstly, I hope that by watching the show I can boost my understanding and knowledge of the inner workings of the business world. Also, I personally find Donald Trump to be a wise man, whom I can learn much from. He is a master businessman whose passion for life and work shine through in every endeavor he embarks upon.

You are required to talk for the full 2 minutes.

4. Imagine you are a candidate in the IELTS test. The teacher is an examiner. Please describe the topic below with what you have learned to make your description better. (5 mins)

Describe your favourite TV program.

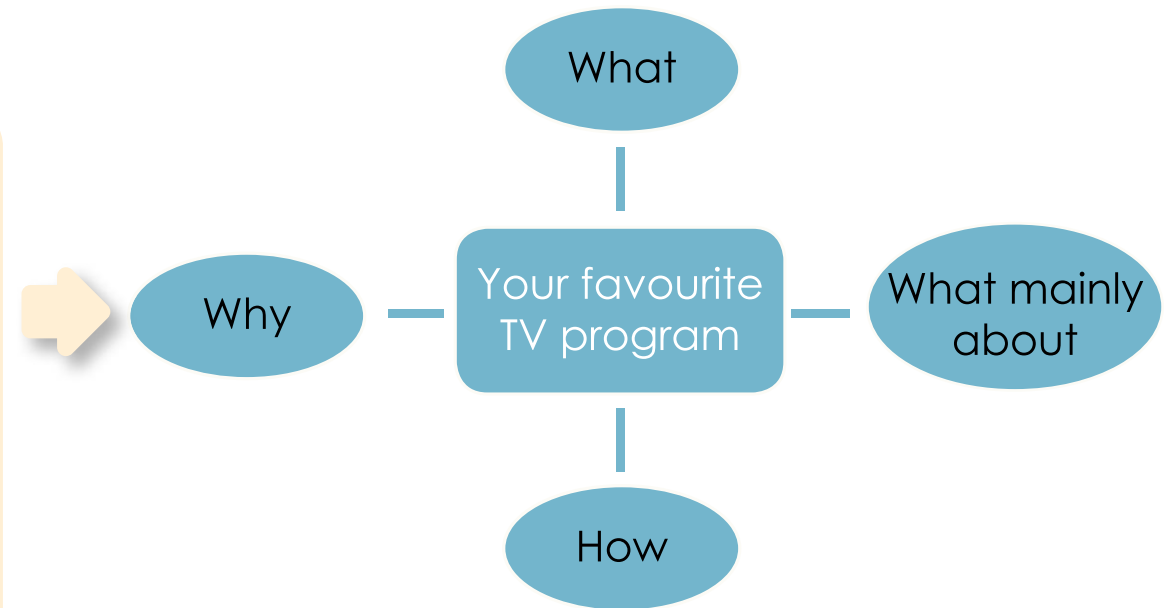

You should say:

the name of the program

what it is mainly about

how often you watch it

and explain why you like it.

Homework: please use the models further for these 2 topics after the lesson.

Describe an educational TV program.

Describe how you spent your last weekend.

IV. IELTS Speaking Part 3 (10 mins)

1. Read and learn the following key words and sentences for the IELTS Part 3. You are suggested to apply these words in the following steps. (5 mins)

Key words and key sentences partially

Example: I think we should increase the number of education programs. Educational programs are a much needed public service. Social problems such as obesity can be partially solved by using programs such as How to Stay Healthy, a show which provides valuable advice on how to eat a balanced and nutritious diet.

proliferation

Example: TV programming in China has recently had a renaissance of quality programming, delighting domestic audiences throughout the country. The proliferation of specialised channels stands in contrast to the serious programming that characterised the 80s and 90s. Concurrently, the development of HD and other technologies has greatly improved the viewing experience.

poised to

Example: Unfortunately, traditional TV is poised to be replaced as the leading medium of visual entertainment by the surging trend of online TV, or even watching TV on a smart phone. Millions of viewers are leading the charge in the revolution of television consumption.

2. Imagine you are a candidate in the IELTS test. The teacher is an examiner. Please answer the questions below with what you have learned to develop your IELTS answers. (5 mins)

Please give two supporting ideas at least for each question.

Do you think there should be more educational TV programmes?

What do you think of the development of TV programming in China?

Do you think TV will be the leading medium in the future?

Key sentences

Traditionally, the phenomenon of three generations of an extended family was the dominant family structure in Chinese society. However, rapid economic growth has caused a change to it.

This is supported by the widespread incidence of grandparents in China spoiling their grandchildren, leading to these children being referred to as “Little Emperors”.

Praising proper conduct is both necessary and correct, but should be limited to oral praise instead of material rewards.

Social problems such as obesity can be partially solved by using programs such as How to Stay Healthy, a show which provides valuable advice on how to eat a balanced and nutritious diet.

TV programming in China has recently had a renaissance of quality programming, delighting domestic audiences throughout the country.

Unfortunately, traditional TV is poised to be replaced as the leading medium of visual entertainment by the surging trend of online TV.
