Model 1

What: My favourite magazine is Vogue, which has been described as one of the world's most influential fashion magazines. At the moment, Vogue is immensely popular among female Chinese readers.

What content: Vogue is known around the globe for its outstanding photographs of super models and near-scholarly articles about fashion. Vogue has various coverage of different perspectives of entertainment, culture and design in the fashion world, along with a generous amount of amazing photography.

How often: Vogue is a monthly magazine. I read it every month.

Why: I like the magazine because it helps me improve how I present myself, which boosts my self-confidence. What I love most about this magazine is the visually stunning photographs that I believe show the integral beauty of women. I carefully cut these photographs out and collect them into a "fashion notebook". I use this notebook as a beauty guide in my daily life. I've learnt not only how to match appropriate outfits to different occasions, but also how to apply makeup in an attractive fashion. Being well-dressed and made up makes me feel more confident in my daily life.
