Model 2

What: I would like to say something about a course I took last year. Well, the course was an oral English course. Although it was just a short course, it left me with a deep impression.

Why: I heard about this course from my aunt, Hazel. As my English speaking skills were weak, she strongly suggested that I attend this course.

What content: This course was definitely different from the previous English courses I had taken. There was no tedious grammar or countless words to memorise. What we did was pretty simple yet fun. We watched the most popular American sitcom - Friends. The teacher asked us to imitate the way people talk in this sitcom. And then she patiently helped us correct our pronunciation and tone.

What you learned: I have found a brand new way to improve my oral English skill ever since I took this course. This new method helped me make great progress in my oral English and I feel really grateful for it.

You are required to talk for the full 2 minutes.
