Unit 1 People

Topic 6—Lesson 2(下篇)

An important friend

Read the task card for 10 seconds and get a general idea of this topic. (1 min)

Describe a friend who is important to you.

You should say:

the name of your friend

when and where you met this friend

what kinds of things you and this friend like to do together and explain why this friend is important to you.

In the real examination, the examiner will ask you to prepare for 1 minute.

3.2 Here is another model for the IELTS Speaking Part 2. We will focus on the sentences highlighted below. (4 mins)

Model 2

Who: Whenever I think of “friendship,” the first person who comes to mind is Leo, my best friend.

When and where: I met Leo on my first day at college. He has been my classmate as well as roommate since then.

What: Leo and I are both obsessed with the computer game DotA. During almost any downtime we have, we usually play this game together. When we aren't playing, we discuss the best strategies and tactics to accomplish the objective of the game, as well as the satisfactory and unsatisfactory aspects of the game's design. Although sometimes we disagree vigorously, we still enjoy playing DoTA together.

Why: Leo is important to me not only as a friend I play video games with, but as someone I can open myself up to. We often talk about our ambitions in life, and encourage each other to pursue our goals. Besides that, we also share our opinions about DoTA. Although we can't see each other as often as before, our friendship remains long-lasting. On occasion, we still meet on the on-line battlefield to do together what we love best: play DoTA.

You are required to talk for the full 2 minutes.

4. Imagine you are a candidate in the IELTS test. The teacher is an examiner. Please describe the topic below with what you have learned to make your description better. (5 mins)

Homework: please use the models further for these 2 topics after the lesson.

Describe someone you spend most of your time with.

Describe your best friend.

IV. IELTS Speaking Part 3 (10 mins)

1. Read and learn the following key words and sentences for the IELTS Part 3. You are suggested to apply these words in the following steps. (5 mins)

Key words and key sentences largely

 Example: I believe where people typically make friends largely depends on people's personalities. For people who are sociable, they can make friends anywhere and under any circumstances, while for people who are quiet and shy, the places where they can make friends are limited to some places they are familiar with, such as school or their neighbourhood.

distract

 Example: The use of technology has both positive and negative consequences on people's friendships. For example, it is amazing how someone can find a long-lost friend through a social networking site, enabling them to reconnect. However, addiction to technology such as computers and the Internet distracts people from their close friends, making them physically isolated.

 Example: Although friends play a significant role in our life, it is family that is most important for us. Friendship may fade due to various reasons while family is forever. You can be separated from your friends easily by moving to a different town, and your friendships fade when you're no longer geographically close, but your family are always there because of blood ties.

2. Imagine you are a candidate in the IELTS test. The teacher is an examiner. Please answer the questions below with what you have learned to develop your IELTS answers. (5 mins)

Please give two supporting ideas at least for each question.

Where do people typically make friends?

What impact has technology (computers, cell phones, the Internet, etc.) had on people's friendships?

Are friends ever more important than family?

V. Summary (5 mins)

Key sentences

Taking a stroll not only allows me to meditate and gather my thoughts, it also allows me to appreciate the beauty of nature.

When spring comes, all the cherry trees begin to blossom, which makes my walk a romantic experience especially when the petals fall on me.

Beyond birdwalking, more conventional customs, such as dog-walking or walking for exercise, of course also exist in China.

I believe where people typically make friends largely depends on people's personalities.

However, addiction to the technology such as computers and the Internet distracts people from their close friends, making them isolated physically.

You can be separated from your friends easily by moving to a different town, and your friendships fade when you're no longer geographically close, but your family are always there because of blood ties.
