Key words and key sentences

cherished

 Example: From my perspective, childhood is the most important part of a person's life. The most primary lessons in life are learnt at this stage — respect your elders and treat others the way you would want to be treated. I also think that our most cherished memories are the ones from our youth and therefore give us something to reflect on when we are adults.

on a ... basis

 Example: The choice to keep something from childhood will vary on a case-by-case basis. People will choose to keep various items from their childhood. I would imagine that the most common items are personal items such as a diary, a favorite toy, or an item of clothing. I also think that people will usually keep special photographs that have deep and personal meanings to them.

precious

 Example: Most people keep items from their childhood as mementos. When they get older, it is common to look back on their childhood, and these items they keep function as reminders of those precious memories. The objects serve to improve their ability to remember and are often kept on display, so they can have access to them at all times.

注：mementos 纪念物；纪念品

Key words and key sentences

assume respond

Example: The service representative does not respond to my phone calls and won't even answer any of my emails.

frustration

Example: I could sense his frustration at not being able to help.

blockbuster

Example: Pearl Harbor was supposed to be a blockbuster film but not many people went to see it.

3.1 Here is a model for the IELTS Speaking Part 2. We will focus on the sentences highlighted below. (4 mins)

Model 1

What and why you bought it: A few weeks ago my cell phone was stolen, so I decided to buy a new one online. Since the delivery time stated that it would only take one week, I assumed I could live without a phone until then.

When and where: Whenever possible, I like to do my shopping online because I do not mind waiting a week or two for delivery. I especially like to buy electronics on the Internet, so ordering a new phone from an e-commerce site seemed like a good idea. I ordered my phone on Tuesday morning, but I did not receive my phone until a whole month later.

Why: This was the worst experience I have ever had when shopping online. Not only did it take a month to deliver my phone, but when the phone arrived it was the completely wrong version of the one that I had ordered. Making matters worse, the store's customer service would not answer my phone and would barely respond to my emails, so there were never any meaningful solutions to my problems. I ended up selling the phone to one of my colleagues and buying a new phone from a store near my home.
