Topic 6—Lesson 2(下篇)

A piece of advice

Read the task card for 10 seconds and get a general idea of this topic.

Describe a piece of advice you received.

You should say:

what the piece of advice was

when you were told it

and explain why it was meaningful to you.

In the real examination, the examiner will ask you to prepare for 1 minute.

3.2 Here is another model for the IELTS Speaking Part 2. We will focus on the sentences highlighted below. (4 mins)

Model 2

When: I was given an important piece of advice when I was a high school student. This advice was from my history teacher, who was a very helpful and wise man.

What: I will never forget what he told me one day after he handed out grades for a test we had the week before. This had been a particularly difficult test and I did not do so well on it. After giving me my grade, he told me, "If you want to succeed in anything in life, make sure you succeed in correcting your mistakes." I felt embarrassed for having received such a low grade, and I decided not to miss the chance to learn from that experience.

Why: His advice had a huge impact on the way I studied after that incident. Whenever I would make errors on future tests or assignments, I would always go back and review the questions that I had gotten wrong. After a while, I became very adept at finding correct answers to past mistakes on tests. Because of this habit, I have always found it easier to learn even the most difficult of concepts.

You are required to talk for the full 2 minutes.

4. Imagine you are a candidate in the IELTS test. The teacher is an examiner. Please describe the topic below with what you have learned to make your description better. (5 mins)

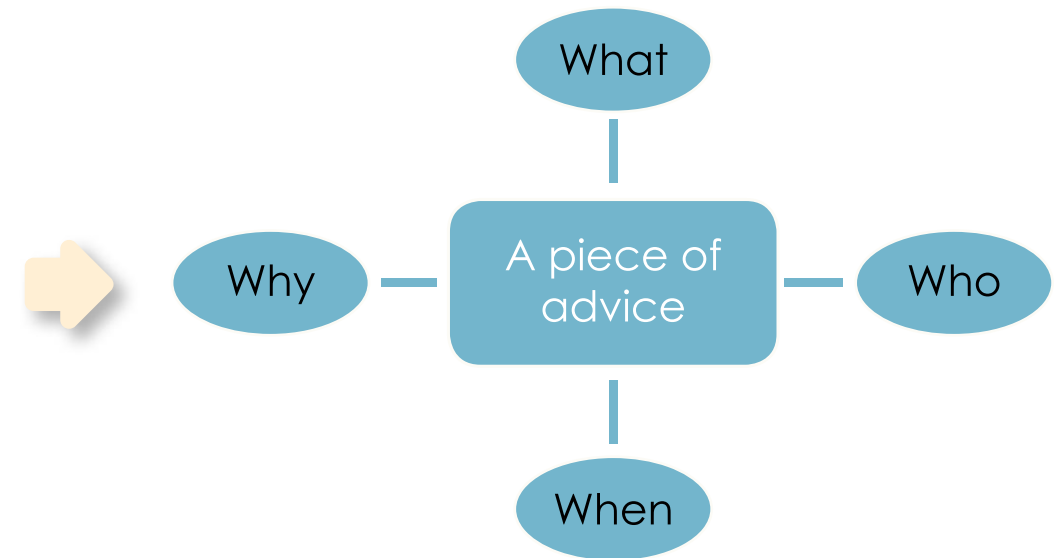

Describe a piece of advice you received.

You should say:

what the piece of advice was

when you were told it

and explain why it was meaningful to you.

Homework: please use the models further for these 2 topics after the lesson.

Describe a piece of advice that helps you a lot.

Describe a piece of advice you gave to others.

IV. IELTS Speaking Part 3 (10 mins)

1. Read and learn the following key words and sentences for the IELTS Part 3. You are suggested to apply these words in the following steps. (5 mins)

Key words and key sentences

preference

Example: I think friends give two main types of advice, work advice and relationship advice. You can always count on a friend to help you when you are having problems at work. They can give you advice on how to improve your problem-solving skills. You can also trust a friend to give you sound advice on relationships. For example, friends always know your preference in finding a partner and therefore know how to help you when it comes to issues with the opposite sex.

Example: From my perspective, following your parents' advice is crucial for young people. Parents have already experienced many of the trials that younger people will experience, so this gives them a better perspective. Also, most parents have extensive knowledge of many different topics and therefore know when and what warnings to give for varying situations.

critical thinking

Example: Most advice given by specialists are usually sound and can be considered useful, but this does depend on each individual specialists' qualifications. The majority of specialists have spent many years working in their fields of study and therefore can be trusted to a certain extent. However, you should use critical thinking skills when it comes to accepting any kinds of advice.

2. Imagine you are a candidate in the IELTS test. The teacher is an examiner. Please answer the questions below with what you have learned to develop your IELTS answers. (5 mins)

Please give two supporting ideas at least for each question.

What kind of advice do friends give each other?

Do you think young people should follow their parents' advice?

What is your opinion on advice given by specialists?

Tips for getting a higher score:

1. Answer directly
2. Give reasons

Key sentences

We spend a lot of time outside together chasing birds, which he doesn't catch. I work from home so my dog never ceases to keep me entertained with his funny behaviour.

However, these types of pets are usually a handful to keep an eye on, which means you should pay constant attention to them.

Cats are great because of their independent attitude and affection for their owners. Lastly, I really like bears because they are powerful creatures, but they still look adorable and cuddly.

For example, friends always know your preference preference in finding a partner and therefore know how to help you when it comes to issues with the opposite sex.

Also, most parents have extensive knowledge of many different topics and therefore know when and what warnings to give for varying situations.
