Model 2

What: I usually cook Coke Chicken Wings at home.

Who taught you and who you cook it for: This dish is pretty easy to cook. I learned it online. At weekends I usually cook it for my family.

How it is cooked: From the name of the dish, we can tell it is made with coke and chicken wings. The night before I cook this dish, I put cleaned chicken wings in a pot with salt and ginger. That's the first step. The next day, I put chicken wings in the pot and boil it for five minutes. After that, I fry them till they turn to golden. Next, I boil the chicken wings for the second time in coke and soy sauce. After around 15-20 minutes, Coke Chicken Wings are ready to eat.

Why: My cooking skills has improved a lot through cooking for my family. It's always a pleasure for me to cook for my family, and I feel happy when they tell me I need to make more the next time. I have also learned a lot from the whole process.

You are required to talk for the full 2 minutes.

Key sentences

I usually relax my body and empty my mind at around 10 p.m.–12 p.m.

As I just mentioned above, I only have 2 hours alone each day but it's enough for me to relax.

I divide my time into hours. When I am working on a task, I usually measure the time I will use and when I finish it, and I will check if I've finished it on time. In this way, I could save time and make good use of time.

Compared to cookbooks, cooking TV programmes provide people with a more live procedure.

Through learning how to cook, children can learn how to take care of themselves, which is a good way to train them to live independently.

Based on my observation, most young people in China don't know how to cook at all since almost everyone is the only child in his or her family and their parents spoil them too much.

The next lesson will be Unit 2 Topic 3 A meal you enjoyed.
