However, the percentage of healthy food has been declining due to lack of governmental watch and control.

thrive

 Example: Agriculture has been an essential part of China's economy for thousands of years. It feeds about 1.3 billion Chinese people, of which more than 60% are farmers. Without the development of farming in China, the country would not have been able to develop and thrive during the last thousand years the way that it has.

 Example: I'm certain that the food supply will be sufficient in China for a certain period of time. On one hand, current agricultural tools have enabled food production in China to keep pace with its growing population. On the other hand, human activities almost always allow us to overcome difficult situations such as famine. Therefore the food supply in China should be adequate for a fair amount of time.

Model 1

Where and who: I would like to talk about the picnic on my 16th birthday, which was my most unforgettable one. My parents, some relatives, a few friends and I went to the mountains for a picnic to celebrate my birthday.

What you ate and drank: Before we had set out on that beautiful Sunday morning, my parents packed well-preserved wine and several seasonal fruits such as peaches and plums. My mother prepared my favourite grape juice as well. After we arrived at the top of the mountain, the adults started to prepare lunch, barbecuing some delicious meat and seafood, while we kids went on an energetic hike. While we were enjoying our appetizing lunch, my family and friends suddenly pulled out a tray of appetising cupcakes! Written on each of them, they spelled out, "Wishing all your dreams come true, Happy Birthday, our angel!".

How you felt: I was totally surprised when my mom took out the cupcakes. I never expected there to be anything resembling a cake since we were on a picnic. When they sang the "Happy Birthday" song to me, I felt so loved by my family. This picnic, together with all those surprises, made my 16th birthday so special that I will never forget.
