Model 1

How you are related: My father is the person I like the most in my family.

What he/she looks like: A lot of people say that I look a lot like him. We almost have the same height and skin tone. He has curly brown hair which makes him outstanding since most Chinese have straight black hair.

What kind of person: My father is the most modest person I know. He believes everyone has merits and he tries his best to learn from everyone. He is also nice to people around him. His previous employees regard him as the best boss in the world and my friends say that they also want him to be their father.

Why: I admire him a lot because he is a wonderful person inside and outside. He has been helping me since I was born. His shining personality has influenced me. Like the Father's Day card that I gave him when I was 15 years old said, if I had a chance I would like to become his daughter/son again.
