What: To start with, I want to say that I am a health fanatic. I have developed the habit of trying every way to stay healthy that I have learned from books or online. Dancing, among all these exercises, is my favourite.

Where and who: I attend a dancing club at school where we gather twice a week. We learn new moves from professional dancers that have been invited to teach us their techniques. It feels amazing to be a member of a team performing the art of dance.

Why: I regard dancing as a good way to maintain our health, both physically and mentally. Several related studies show that dancing can improve the condition of our heart due to the constant movement involved. Also, it's good for the development of coordination, since we must control our movements precisely with grace. As for our mental health, dancing really does lift our spirits, especially for those who suffer from depression. Therefore, I hold the belief that dancing is the best way for me to keep healthy.

You are required to talk for the full 2 minutes.
