What is special about it: It gives us milk which is a good source of nutritious protein for us. It provides us with meat and leather material. In some countries, the cow is used for plowing land for farming purposes. The teeth and bones of this animal are sometimes used to make combs, buttons and other useful things.

I like this animal mostly because of its closeness to humans and its usefulness for us. During my childhood we had 5-6 cows at my home and they were very friendly. They were very helpful to us.
