Model 2

What the festival is: I'd like to tell you something about the Spring Festival. The festival is basically a celebration of the new year and a farewell to the old year.

When the festival occurs: According to the lunar calendar, the Spring Festival usually starts sometime in early February or late January. It is celebrated to usher in a new year and to get rid of the demons from the older generation.

What I like: People celebrate it by decorating their house, getting together, having a big dinner, and giving hongbao, which actually means "red packets". Everything around you at this time is full of happiness. The happiest thing is I'm the youngest one so I always get "hongbao" from others.

Why this festival is important: The Spring Festival provides an opportunity for Chinese people to remember their cultural origin, a chance to relax and keep our inner balance between work and leisure, and a great time to have fun.

You are required to talk for the full 2 minutes.
